City Council Says Route E 'Okay'

4-1 Vote Cast For Alternate

The Menlo Park City Council majority refused Tuesday night to flatly oppose all Willow Freeway routes.

Only Councilman Ira Bonde split away from the majority Council decision to adopt a policy statement opposing Route M-A and supporting Route E which will be presented here Friday at the State Highway Commission hearing.

Bonde agreed with the more militant approach suggested by petitioners who presented a list of 3,682 names in opposition to any kind of freeway within Menlo Park's City limits.

(Bonde's prepared statement and the adopted council position are presented in separate stories in this issue.)

Mayor William R. Lawson exchanged sharp words with the spokesmen for the petitioners and with Bonde before the evening was over.

Floyd Smith, 325 Claremont Way, spoke first from the audience. He said he wanted to amend the original petition by adding 1,928 names for a total of 3,682.

Smith termed the freeway concept "an obsolete solution for internal traffic problems" and said eventually they cause more traffic congestion than they solve.

Improved local east-west roadways with railroad underpasses would solve local problems and cost less than the tax hike which would result from the loss of assessed value to the freeway, he declared.

RESOLUTIONS

Smith asked the council to pass resolutions (1) to ask State Assemblyman Carl Britschgi to introduce legislation removing the Willow Freeway from the state highway system and (2) telling the highway commission Friday that the city will refuse to negotiate a street closing agreement with the state "for any route within Menlo Park."

Adding voices of protest to the selection of the M-A route were H. P. Hatch, chairman of the board of Argonaut Insurance Co., 250 Middlefield Road, and R. H. Hahn, speaking for the Shell Oil Co., which is building a data-processing center across Middlefield Road from the insurance firm.

Hatch said he was advised three weeks ago that a loop from the Middlefield-Willow Freeway M-A Route interchange "would be coming through our front door—this absolutely destroyed us."

The firm is a 'quiet industry" of the kind "ideally suited" to Menlo Park, Hatch said, and urged Council opposition of the route.

The same loop, Hahn said, would virtually fence in the new 1.5 million dollar data processing center and keep Shell from proceeding with further expansion plans.

Mayor Lawson closed off discussion at that point and it resumed later in the meeting when the city engineer read the report he will present Tuesday.

Smith preceded reading of the policy statement by saying he was personally "in general agreement with the city council in favoring some kind of traffic artery . . . we all have to remember that this freeway would not be built for 10 to 15 years . . . (traffic) conditions at that time may be a great deal different than they are today."

BEFORE VOTE

Before the Council vote was taken, it was noted by City Manager John R. Johnson that Britschgi won't be able to attend Friday because of an Assembly committee hearing in Los Angeles. But he authorized reading of a statement into the record that he will introduce legislation at the 1963 session to remove the freeway from the highway system if he is asked to do so by Menlo Park.

When the vote on the city's position was taken, Lawson and Councilmen Charles Anderson, Michael Belangie and Silas Payne voted yes and Bonde cast a no vote.

The petitioners then again asked if the Council planned to do anything about their two suggested resolutions.

Lawson said the council had already taken the position in an earlier resolution that they favored Route E and opposed M-A.

"Do we interpret this to mean you refuse to act on the resolutions?" Smith asked.

"As far as I'm concerned, yes. I don't know how the other councilmen feel," Lawson said.

A woman who didn't identify herself then charged that the council was rejecting "the will

Prepare Friday Stand

City Engineer Edwin Smith will make Menlo Park City Council's official presentation protesting Route M-A and supporting Route E when the State Highway Commission meets Friday to hear arguments about the controversial freeway link.

Following are extracts from the five-page statement he will make on behalf of the city:

"The City of Menlo Park protests the adoption of the M-A route for Willow Road freeway (State Highway Route 107) and reiterates its stand that the only freeway route acceptable to the city is the E route. In support of its position, the city wishes to point out that in every criterion used for route selection, the E route is preferable."

COSTS

State Division of Highway sources indicated M-A will cost between two and three million dollars more than E.

Any savings made by using the present Willow Road overpass at Bayshore for a number of years, the city feels, will be more than offset by inflation of land costs and construction costs during the delay.

TRAFFIC FUNCTION

The Division's traffic movement studies indicated that perhaps as much as 75 per cent of traffic on Willow is generated from sources south of the proposed freeway.

If it's agreed that more concentrated land development is occurring and will occur to the south, then it follows that the excess southerly movement will continue. This seems to be reason enough to locate the routes as far south as possible, the report states.

Smith will say that the E route alignment is better in that it contains less and flatter curveture, particularly at critical interchanges. He will also say that the full Route E interchanges can be more easily created than for Route M-A at Middlefield Road and El Camino Real.

Smith will also note that the site of the depressed M-A crossing has been flooded in every major storm and that "extraordinary measures" in regards to underpass pumps will be needed. These devices often malfunction at critical runoff periods, he said.

COMMUNITY DISRUPTION

Each route is guilty of causing much disruption, the report states, but, in terms of assessed value, M-A destroys more property. The E route takes a greater number of individual structures, but "it is obvious from the statistics that these must be the smaller and older structures."

M-A generally travels diagonally across neighborhood street patterns, "leaving irregular land residues served by awkward dead end streets" while E runs "predominately with existing . . . street patterns. . ."

COMMUNITY BENEFIT

California gas tax funds for freeway are distributed with the idea that costs of public works should be apportioned in proportion to benefit received so that maximum users pay maximum shares.

The same formula should be applied in connection with the loss of assessed value in communities affected by freeways, the report states. Since much of the traffic comes from the south, "a like amount of community cost should be assumed by south areas."

The M-A route would mean Menlo Park assumes 90 per cent of the assessed value loss while Palo Alto and Santa Clara County would lose less than 1 per cent. The E route assessed value loss would be 53 per cent for Menlo Park and East Palo Alto and 47 per cent for Palo Alto and Santa Clara County.

"After thorough consideration of the foregoing arguments, the City of Menlo Park strongly recommends that the M-A route be rejected and that the E route, modified to include full interchanges at El Camino Real and Middlefield Road, be adopted."

State Commission Visits:

Highway Hearing Tomorrow

The California State Highway Commission is coming to town.

Members of the body which governs the multi-million dollar business of state highway construction and maintenance will open a public hearing at 1:30 p.m. in Burgess gymnasium to hear the pros and cons on a route for the Willow Freeway.

The gymnasium will be fitted out with bleachers and chairs seating about 700 persons—and it's expected that all seats will be filled.

The meeting, with Commission Chairman Robert Bradford in charge, will begin with a brief presentation of the State Highway Engineer's support of Route M-A.

Then the chairman will ask representatives of the various political jurisdictions to speak. Menlo Park, Palo Alto, San Mateo County and Santa Clara County spokesmen are expected to respond.

Following this, semi-official groups who have made written application to speak will be allowed to do so.

Finally, individuals who have filled out cards distributed among the audience will be called upon to voice their opinions.

A complete transcript of the hearing will be taken by a court reporter and the committee will weigh this information along with that received from other hearings and data furnished by the state engineer.

According to the Division of Highways, the commission is expected to require two months or more of study before a final route decision is announced.

Hillside Problem:

Skylonda Residents Press For Hook-up to New Water

To connect or not to connect? This is the big question in Skylonda these days.

With the imminent completion of the Skyline County Water District system, some Skylonda residents are pressing for a hook-up with the new line which taps Hetch-Hetchy water at Edgewood Road and the Hassler Health Farm.

Backers of the hook-up charge that their present Skylonda Mutual Water Co. supply is inadequate and that the water, although presumably safe to drink, is bad-tasting because of chlorination and the algae prevalent in their reservoir.

However, Louis L. Roberts, president of the water company, says annexing to the new system would be economically unfeasible at this time. For this reason, the company's stockholders recently decided to improve what they have, bringing it up to county standards over a three-year period. This will entail raising $18,000 during the period through an additional $3 per month meter charge, according to Roberts.

Roberts said the improvements will include enlarging the system's mains, now between two and four inches, and cleaning up the reservoir. The latter would include dredging and taking care of sewage and other foreign matter that runs toward the pond.

County health officials state the water is potable according to monthly checks they make. Until recently further building was denied in the area; but the county is now issuing permits subject to assurance that the residents will get enough water.

Roberts pointed out that Skylonda, originally a weekend cottage area, would be burdened by the outlay necessary to enter the Skyline system—estimated, he said, at more than $250,000 for 135 water connections.

But one housewife, who requested anonymity, said it would be worth it considering the miniscule fish and fine gravel she's gotten through her tap.

The gravel jimmied up her washing machine at one time, she said.

Six Patrolmen Begin Duties On December 1

Six new police patrolmen authorized by the Menlo Park City Council as of last July 1 finally will go on duty with the department as of Dec. 1, Police Chief George Potter said this week.

The six are top applicants out of more than 120 who originally signed up to take civil service examinations, shortly after the authorizations.

Of the original applicants, only 28 passed the first written examination presented under state civil service rules and administered by the city's personnel board.

These, in turn, were given oral examinations by the members of the city's personnel board and also were investigated to make sure they had no previous crime records, Chief Potter said.

Next Week:

OUT EARLY

Next week's issues of the Menlo Park Recorder, Mid-Peninsula Buy Word and Ravenswood Post will be distributed on Tuesday, rather than Thursday, Publisher C. A. Burley said this week.

Reason is to allow members of the newspaper staff a longer Thanksgiving holiday, he said, and to allow residents to take advantage of pre-Thanksgiving bargains being offered by the community's stores.

Because of the early printing schedule, classified advertising deadline has been moved up to 3 p.m. Friday.

M-A Jaycees Plan Annual Yule Parade

Menlo-Atherton Jaycees are now planning for their annual Christmas parade which they feel will be their "best ever." Saturday morning, Dec. 9, at 10 a.m. has been the date and time set aside by the Jaycees for their colorful event.

The parade officially triggers the opening of the annual Christmas season in the Menlo Park area. It is in this parade that Santa is escorted into Menlo Park, preceded by marching units and floats.

This year, awards and trophies will be given to the best entrants in their individual calss. The parade route as in the past will proceed from Johnson Street down Santa Cruz Avenue.

Any groups or units interested in participating should call parade chairman Gene Bell at EM 9-4784 after 6 p.m.

BOSKY GLEN . . . . . is setting of 5 million gallon pond-type reservoir serving residents of Skylonda, above Woodside. Various homeowners want to hook up with new Skyline County Water system because they feel their present set-up with the Skylonda Water Co. is inadequate. Prevalence of algae in the reservoir is one of their bones of contention. However, backers of the present system feel they can "make do" with a three-year period of improvements costing $18,000.

By Narrow Margin:

Woodsiders OK Bond Issue

side voters turned out Tuesday to approve narrowly a $500,000 elementary school bond issue, funds from which will be used for the town's second school.

It was the biggest voter response to date on an all-elementary school election. Of the 457 residents balloting, 310 voted in favor and 146 against the district's first bond proposal since 1957. One vote was cancelled.

Thus the bonds passed by a slim margin of six votes. A two-thirds majority—304 votes—was needed to push the measure through.

Supt. Lester Larsen gave much of the credit for the large turn-out to the school district's bond promotion committee, headed by Robert Gill and Mrs. Daniel Liebowitz.

"Certainly their work and that of their co-workers was exceedingly important in reminding citizens to vote," he said.

"I also think we came away with passage of the measure due to the inherent interest of the citizens in their school district and the education of the children," Larsen stated.

PROMOTES PLAN

The bond passage means the Woodside Elementary School District can now continue with plans for a new school on Tripp Road in "an uninterrupted fashion," according to the superintendent.

The school district has set a tentative target date of September, 1963, for opening of the first unit of the Tripp Road School. Estimated cost of construction is $228,000.

Supt. Larsen advised that the school board will probably set a groundbreaking date within the next month and a half. He indicated construction would be underway by next summer.

The district will be able to sell $210,000 of the bonds during the current fiscal year, thus putting it in financial position for the new school, Larsen said.

The proposed order of work which voters have enabled the district to carry out includes:

1. Tripp Road School site development—$90,000;
2. First stage of Tripp Road School construction—$228,000;
3. Minor alterations and additions to Woodside School—$60,000;
4. Estimated cost of purchase of third school site—$125,000.

The Tripp Road School designed by San Francisco architects Delp Johnson, Poole and Storm will include in its first unit a kindergarten, five classrooms, library, office and multi-purpose room. Accommodating 125 pupils, it will thus ease the district's burgeoning enrollment, which numbered 400 on Oct. 1, and help the district keep to its classroom load policy of 25 children per class.

CAMPAIGN

The school board has stressed in its pre-bond election campaign that the present Woodside School had reached the saturation point and was no longer adequate for proper education according to State standards.

Passage of the bond issue raises the bond tax rate to 60 cents, three cents more than the average rate since 1957. Since 1957, the yearly Woodside School Bond tax rate has been 57 cents on each $100 assessed valuation. In 1957-58 and 1958-59, the tax rates were 68 and 63 cents, respectively.

The school board will canvass the election votes at a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday.

Anchor Bar To Close— No Hearing

Negotiations were underway early this week for the immediate closing of the Anchor Bar, 1220 Willow Road.

Owners of the liquor license for the establishment have waived a hearing scheduled to start yesterday at which it was to be ascertained whether or not the establishment constituted a "disorderly premise."

According to Area Administrator Sidney Feinberg of the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, owners of the liquor license for the bar, plan to use their license for the opening of another establishment somewhere in the county.

The Anchor Bar is in the center of an area which has seen several civil disturbances over the past few years. Since February, Menlo Park police have maintained extra patrols in their portion of the area — across Willow Road — during weekends, and sheriff's deputies have done likewise in the area immediately around the place.

The bar has been alleged to be an attraction to out-of-town individuals who on occasion have been described as "undesirable" by police.

"The liquor license owners want to move the location of their business to some place where this problem doesn't exist," Feinberg reported this week.

Owners of the liquor license are Rose and Charles Boicelli.

Feinberg added Tuesday that the papers were in the hands of Boicelli's attorney but had to be returned to his office at the Ferry Building in San Francisco for the closing to be made immediate.

Peace Corps Exams Slated

Examinations of applicants for participation in the Peace Corps will be held in Redwood City Nov. 28 and Nov. 29, Postmaster Harry B. Morey said this week.

Persons interested in taking the tests, which are to be administered beginning promptly at 8:30 a.m. both days, should contact the civil service board at the Redwood City postoffice for further information, Morey added.

'Crusade' Campaign Report: Two-Thirds of Quota Received

The United Crusade of San Mateo County passed beyond the two-thirds mark in its 1961 campaign according to reports given last Thursday at a luncheon meeting at the Hilton Inn, International Airport.

Don M. Galbraith, campaign chairman, announced that the San Mateo County Crusade stands at 65 per cent of its $611,807 goal with gifts totalling $397,587.

And San Mateo County stands second in the five-county United Bay Area Crusade, led only by Marin County which had reached 75.1 per cent of its goal. As a whole, the United Bay Area Crusade totalled gifts of $8,078,996, or 73.4 per cent of an $11,000,000 goal for the five counties of San Mateo, San Francisco, Marin, Alameda and Contra Costa.

This week's Crusade luncheon featured the residential division which tallied gifts of $146,443 or 70.0 per cent of its goal.

Co-chairmen of the division, Mrs. E. E. Eyre Jr. of Atherton and Mrs. Richard Cornuelle of San Mateo, praised the accomplishments of workers in communities throughout the county. Four communities reported in at more than 100 per cent of goal: Brisbane, 429.7 per cent; Millbrae, 114.4 per cent; Emerald Lake, 115.2 per cent, and Portola Valley, 126.8

According to reports at the Crusade meeting, the professional division, led by Frank Blum, is leading the county campaign with 72.8 per cent, or gifts of $20,444. The commerce and industry division, led by John J. Douglas, has reached 67.0 per cent with $174,112.

Led by Emery L. Fields, the business division totalled 61.8 per cent of goal with $14,355; education, led by Mark Erickson, has 48.7 per cent, with $13,431; public employees, led by Mrs. Jean Fassler and Ralph Woodman, 62.4 per cent with $12,647, and construction, led by U. R. (Jack) Kendree at 37.2 per cent with gifts of $16,155.

Here is the residential division breakdown for the south county, Region B:

Co-chairmen: Mrs. F. A. McFarland, Atherton, and Mrs. Emery H. Rogers, Atherton.

Atherton: Mrs. William J. Donchoe and Mrs. Robert Ryan, 50.6 per cent with $21,875.

East Palo Alto: Mrs. Benjamin Marsh, 5.4 per cent with $45.

La Honda: Mrs. Mike P. LeComte, 67.5 per cent with $81.

Pescadero: Mrs. E. Williamson, 22 per cent with $100 .

Menlo Park: Mrs. James LaPlante, 65.8 per cent, $11,973.

Portola Valley: Mrs. R. L. Brandenburger, 126.8 per cent with $5374.

Woodside: Mrs. Walter McNiff, 75.8 per cent, $14,101.

Total south county Region B, 62.6 per cent with $56,449.

FIRE INVESTIGATION

The firemen Friday afternoon were called to investigate at a home at 1878 Barton St., after grease in a broiler had overheated. The subsequent fire was put out by householders before the firemen arrived.

'No Freeway Needed,' Bonde Avers

Menlo Park City Councilman Ira Bonde issued what he called a minority report Tuesday night in open dissent with the council majority on their official presentation Friday to the State Highway Commission.

Here is Bonde's statement:

"I wish to make it clear to the commission that my lack of statement to you should in no way give rise to any assumption on your part that I am in favor of a freeway.

"I reject all freeway routes or the combination of any routes because:

"1. A freeway was not asked for by this city.

"2. A freeway must be located in the area it will serve. (Studies by the Highway Department show that over 70 per cent of the users will come from Palo Alto and points south.)

"3. Community benefit has not been shown in relation to the loss of assessed valuation by Menlo Park.

"4. Menlo Park is a residential community and some of the finest residential areas on the peninsula, or for that matter in the United States, will be jeopardized or destroyed by the proximity of a freeway in its vicinity (Linfield Oaks, Oak Knoll, Stanford Hills and the Sharon Estate).

"The concept of a freeway in the Menlo Park area should be removed from the highway system and studies should be undertaken by the state to determine if some other network of cross-peninsula arterials would better suit the needs of the communities involved."

Christmas Tree Sale Opens Dec. 4

Menlo Park Kiwanis club's Christmas tree sales lot will open Dec. 4 at 866 Santa Cruz avenue, members of the sponsoring service club reminded this week.

Members of the club, meanwhile, are out canvassing, selling advance sales tickets to members of the community. Proceeds of the sale are used to finance youth activities and other welfare projects of the club.

The lot will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day.

Projects supported by the Kiwanis include Guide Dogs for the Blind, Little League, Menlo Park tennis tournament, Menlo Park swim meet, American Field Service, baseball and basketball trophies, Ravenswood High School Key club.

Clothing for underprivileged children, Christmas packages for needy families, drugs and books for missionary doctors in Asia and Africa, Menlo Park Boys' club, a Boy Scout Troop, Cub Scout Pack, a vocational guidance program, VA hospital services and the Fellowship of Western Athletes.

UPHOLSTERY BURNS

Tuesday morning, firemen were called to an auto wrecking yard at 51 Tara Road, where sparks from a cutting torch had ignited the upholstery of an auto being dismantled. There was no damage.

of the people."

Belangie said he didn't want to endorse either resolution proposed by the petitioners "at this time."

The time may come later for such action, he indicated, if the state turns down the city's request for selection of Route E.

Bonde then declared he had voted for the original selection so that a "solid front" might be presented to the state. The state engineer's recommendation for M-A, however, means that "the olive branch we handed them has been thrown back in our faces."

He read his statement and then asked it be added to the full council declaration "as a minority report."

Lawson said that would be "like asking a lawyer to present both sides of the case," and suggested that Bonde send a separate letter.

Bonde rejoined that he "didn't want to be any part of this," referring to the majority opinion, and withdrew his request.

In other actioins Tuesday night, the Council:

1. Agreed to send the proposed zoning of certain bay perimeter lands back to the planning commission for study after a protest by James Parmalee, assistant District Attorney representing the South San Mateo County Refuse and Garbage Disposal District. Parmalee said the district wanted to avoid having to get a use permit every time more land was added to the fill area and suggested certain changes.

2. Gave formal approval to a contract with Kingsford Jones, Menlo Park architect, who will draw up plans for the Community Activities Building project.

3. Appointed Charles Marsh, 1080 Creek Drive, to the city personnel board.

Supervisors Also Back Route E Plan

San Mateo County's Board of Supervisors Tuesday went on record as favoring Freeway Route "E," if any path for State Highway Route 107 is run through Menlo Park.

They also appointed one of their members and two county administrators to represent them at tomorrow's State Highway Commission hearing at Burgess Park Gym.

The supervisors' resolution was unanimous.

To represent the county at the hearing will be Supervisor William Werder, of the south county district; County Planning Director Frank Skillman and County Engineer Don Wilson.

Math Mentors To Attend Meet At Asilomar

Several local members of the California Mathematics Council will be attending the annual conference at Asilomar this year.

John Martin, special consultant in arithmetic for the Menlo aPrk School District, Dan Longaker, teaching vice-principal at Belle Haven School and Lloyd Rogers, fifth grade teacher at O'Connor School, both in the Ravenswood City School District, will spend the weekend of Nov. 17-19 attending meetings, demonstrations, and panel discussions on a variety of topics relating to the recent developments in the teaching of mathematics at all levels.

There will be a top panel of "frontier" thinkers on hand to guide the conference participants.

Termite Control Is Subject of Realty Board

New termite control regulations which affect the homeowning public were the subject of a panel discussion at a recent luncheon meeting of the Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors.

Some 130 members were present to hear a panel of experts discuss the new laws, which feature a screening process under which all inspections of improved property are to be microfilmed and submitted to Sacramento for scrutiny by a state pest control board.

Some controversy has developed, it was stated, because it has been felt that the necessity of making a referral to Sacramento would result in a delay in property transfers.

Glen Fisher, a member of the State Structural Pest Control Boad, declared, however, that with modern methods of information retrieval, reports of record can be sent to the real estate broker, buyer and seller in a very short time.

Members of the panel included, besides Fisher, Charles Keenan of Cornish and Carey, who served as moderator; Richard Hoag, pest control operator of San Mateo County; H. F. Holloway of Consolidated Termite Control Co. of Los Altos, Saxon F. Lewis, chief deputy commissioner of real estate; G. A. Verssen, escrow officer of California Pacific Title Co. and John P. Wilson, legal counsel for the Menlo-Atherton Board.

Autos Stolen Here Tuesday

Two autos—both the same year and make—were reported stolen in Menlo Park Tuesday, police report. The thefts follow in quick order the stealing of two cars over the weekend (see earlier story, this issue).

First of the two cars was reported stolen at 8:25 a.m. by Neil Lindstrom, who said it had been taken from the carport of his home at 1797 Oakdell Drive some time during the night hours.

At 4:30 p.m. Gertrude G. Dale, 707 Curtis St., reported her vehicle missing from the parking lot at Stanford Research Institute.

Both autos were 1956 Chevrolet sedans.

EPA Pipe Firm Scene of Fire

Firemen yesterday were totalling up estimated damage of $10,000 to $15,000 at the Durant Pipe Co. at 325 Demeter St. in East Palo Alto, where a blaze broke out Tuesday evening.

The fire, a company spokesman said, resulted possibly from a faulty wiring connection. Men working in the building turned in the alarm, at 7:48 p.m., they added.

Two pieces of apparatus and 15 firemen responded.

The firm, involved in construction of materials for missile bases throughout the country, said through a spokesman that its work will not be interrupted substantially.

Huge Project:

Groundbreaking Today for Big Woodside Research Facility

Ground was broken this morning for the first unit of the multi-million dollar Chan medical research center near Woodside.

The $35,000,000 propect—the first of its kind in the nation—will be the haven for semi-retired scientists doing various type of medical research. The first unit, a three-story building of wood and adobe construction, will house five scientists, each with five assistants.

Among dignitaries invited to attend the 11 a.m. ceremonies on Kings Mountain Road just below the Skyline were Governor Edmund "Pat" Brown, Mayor George Cristopher, Senator Richard Dolwig, Representative Arthur Younger, Woodside Mayor William Lowe, Woodside Councilman Selah Chamberlain, and the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

Dr. Wallace Chan, the project's developer, was scheduled to fly from Washington to attend the ceremonies, which are to be followed by a picnic at Brock's Restaurant at Skyline Blvd. and Kings Mountain Road. Dr. Chan took time out from his duties as special assistant to the deputy surgeon general of the U.S.

Completion of the center's first unit will be within 90 to 120 days, according to the builders, Jonathan B. Horowitz Construction Co. of San Francisco.

The project's architects are Choy and McWilliams of San Francisco.

The big project which Woodside's town council first heatedly opposed and eventually acepted will be located on 102 acres on Kings Mountain Road, about a quarter of a mile from Skyline Blvd. Termed an administrative and research park, it received a county planning commission use permit for the first building in mid-June.

Among the salient restrictions placed on the center by planners are:

1. There shall be no processing or manufacturing of any goods or materials on the property other than required for research purposes.

2. All uses of the property shall be of such a nature as to preclude the likelihood of requiring frequent visits from persons not employed on the premises.

3. Cuts and fills shall be held to a minimum in order to preserve the natural features of the site.

Dr. Chan, former Atherton physician, has said: "We are interested in assimilating with the community and making the center as attractive an adjunct as posible."

Thus, no tree more than six inches in diameter will be touched on the property and cutting and filling will be kept to a negligible point through the use of contour buildings.

Dr. Chan said it's still uncertain how many such three-story units there will be in all.

The scientists to be at the center all have Federal grants for research work. Also, the center expects foundational aid, according to Dry. Chan.

Youth Jailed After Stay In Local Home

A 16-year-old Menlo Park boy who spent the night in an Atherton home whose owners were away last week currently is awaiting juvenile court action, police said yesterday.

The lad may also face charges in Palo Alto, stemming from an earlier escapade in which he and a Palo Atlo youth used a stolen gun to shoot holes in an auto they stole in the latter city.

And, Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard added, his department is still checking to locate the owner of the gun.

The 16-year-old's week of strange activities apparently started Tuesday, Chief Hubbard said, when he and the Palo Alto boy started prowling around Atherton homes, finally locating a gun in the rear yeard of one of them.

They took the gun, then returned to Palo Alto and stole a car which they drove to nearby hills in Santa Clara county. They shot holes in it, then returned to Palo Alto.

The next day the local youth got into an argument with his parents.

He left home ,he admitted later to police, and went to the residence of Edward Reiss, 149 Linden Ave., which he had previously ascertained to be temporarily unoccupied.

He broke a window to let himself in, police said, and added that he occupied himself for the evening by dismantling a garden cultivator and also by eating food he found in the house.

He also jotted down the telephone number of a 'teen-age girl acquaintance, leaving in on a pad by the Reiss' telephone.

The owners returned to their home Friday evening and immediately notified police that their home had been broken into.

Checking with the girl, police got the name of the suspect, who was arrested during the weekend. Police said he is charged with burglary and trespassing.

YOKOSUKA, Japan (Special) — Navy Lieutenant Richard W. Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Briggs of 945 Peninsula Way, Menlo Park, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger

FALSE ALARM

An alarm box was "rung in" at 8:45 a.m. yesterday at Ravenswood High School, firemen report, saying it was a false alarm.

Baptists Name Choir Leader

James Larkin of Palo Alto has been appointed choir director at the Atherton Hills Baptist Church, it was announced this week.

Larkin, a graduate of San Francisco State College and Simpson Bible College in San Francisco, was choir director at the Westlake Community Baptist Church before moving to the Peninsula.

At the present time he is a teacher at the Garland Elementary School in Palo Alto. He and his wife, Lois, are the parents of four children.

In Atherton:

Police Nab Dope Suspects

A Fresno man apprehended here on charges of possession of narcotics has pleaded not guilty, and two men siezed with him are yet to enter pleas on similar charges.

All three were arrested by Atherton police the night of Nov. 10, when they were found in a parked car with 86 "bindles' 'of heroin in the car with them.

Ernest Corona, 22, of Fresno, has pleaded not guilty. Jessie Perez, 19, of Santa Clara to enter a plea Nov. 21 and Jessie Flores Martinez, 20, of Cupertino, is to enter a plea today.

The three were found in a car parked on Atherton Avenue by Police Sergeant William Burke and Officer Robert Cawley.

The officers said the observed men trying to hide a bundle under the seat, as they approached the suspicious car. The bundle proved to contain the heroin, they added.

Atherton police chief Leroy Hubbard said that Perez was at first also charged with suspicion of rape ,since Atherton police have been seeking a man with a similar description for about a month. The victim failed to identify him, however.

Chief Hubbard said that Atherton officers have been most careful in checking suspicious cars since the rape, and this was possibly a factor in the arrest.

District Attorney's investigator A. L. Lambert described the heroin as "very good stuff," police said. He estimated the value of the drug found in the car at about $1000.

UNPERMITTED BURNING

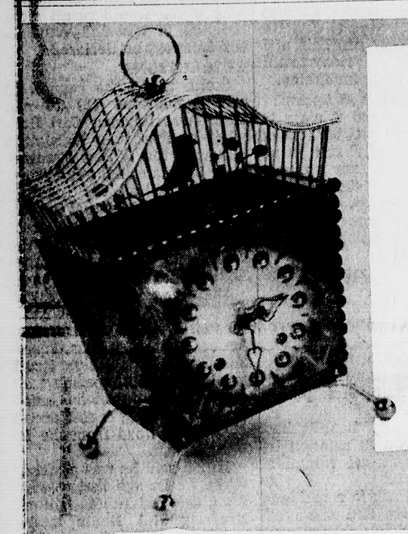

Local firemen Friday afternoon were called to 845 Green St., where unpermitted burning of rubbish was found to be in progress.

First Selections of Library Record Collection Received

First selections of the new circulating record collection have arrived at the Menlo Park Library, according to City Librarian Phil Morales.

The records will be available to the public, as soon as they are processed, about the middle of December.

The first of a series of orders, these records were made posible by a donation by the Menlo Park Rotary Club. It includes foreign language records in Russian, Italian, Spanish, French and German.

A group of Shakespearean plays by the Shakespeare Recording Society and readings by such famous artists as Katherine Cornell, Carl Sandburg, John Gielgud, Dylan Thomas and others.

Menlo Park library will stress the language arts for this beginning record collection, Morales states.

At first, it will be "an extension of the book collection," however, he said, music will be a part of it also.

The reasons for beginning with the language arts at the Menlo Park library are several, according to Morales.

So many record categories are available to the public these days that in a small collection, such as the one being established here, only a scattering of each would be possible.

The library board therefore decided to limit the collection so that a good representation of one or more categories would be available to the public.

'PRACTICAL'

Another reason and at this time a practical one, Morales said, is that the staff must become acquainted with the handling of a record collection.

Members of the library's board of trustees felt that the language arts would be a natural step. Also, any damage to records would be less objectionable on play readings, for instance, than on records of musical selections.

Mrs. Georgia Cox, San Mateo County Reference librarian, has prepared a basic list of recommended music titles, which is on file at the library. Any local group wishing to donate to the music portion of the collection may refer to it.

The collection is small and supported entirely by public donations at this time, Morales pointed out.

"The Rotary club is helping to make our collection a reality, and we hope that other community groups will participate in this project," Morales concluded.

O'Connor Pupils Participate In 'Math Olympiad'

Sven Johannsen, fourth grader at O'Connor School, has been named the winner of the first of a series of three Mathematics Olympiads at that school.

The Olypiad, an enrichment mathematics examination, was initiated three years ago by Lloyd Rogers, fifth grade teacher, who drafts and supervises the testing.

A series of three tests are given throughout the year with points being awarded the first, second, and third place winners. The student scoring the most points in the three tests is declared the school champion and is presented with a trophy at the end of the year.

Young Johannsen made the top score of all fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students, edging Tim Klick, sixth grader and last year's school champion. Allen Harris, fifth grader, and Kenneth Fujimoto, fourth grader, tied for third place.

The first Olympiad test dealt with problems in inequalities, geometric construction, clock arithmetic, understanding our number system, and cross number puzzles using the four processes.

Music Mentors Slate Program

Palo Alto branch of the California Music Teachers Association will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Miss Avis Aasen, 10 Cotton Place, Menlo Park.

The program will be given by Peter Zimmerman, composer and pianist, and Dr. Edith Dowley from the Stanford education department, who will give a talk on the subject, "Creative Development of the Young Child."

Zimmerman is a newcomer to the area's music colony, having come from Frankfurt, Germany, where he was graduated from the Frankfurt Conservatory in 1957. He will play his own composition, "Sonatina 1954," "Carnaval de Vienne" by Schumann and "Mazurka in G Minor, Op. 90, No. 3."

Home Damaged By Blaze At Midnight

A sleeping North Fair Oaks family was aroused in time early Monday to escape unscathed from their burning home. The dwelling was damaged to an extent estimated at $4000.

Firemen were called to the home at 73 15th Ave. after its occupants had fled next door and telephoned an alarm from there. Telephone wires previously had been downed by the flames.

Howard Maillaird, the home's owner, drove to Menlo Park Fire District Station 4, two blocks away, to give an additional alarm.

Firemen said the family was asleep until a house guest, Mary Raymond, awoke and smelled smoke. She awakened members of the family.

Firemen said the flames apparently started in the vicinity of some "hi- fi" equipment in a rumpus room. They said they suspected faulty wiring as the cause.

Three pieces of equipment responded to the alarm, as did 30 firemen, many of them off duty.

Damage to the home was estimated at $3000 and to contents, at $1000 by Menlo Park District Chief George Carter. He said that smoke and heat damage was general throughout the house.

Planners Okay Porch Project

City planners last week warily okayed the glassing-in of a porch at Little House in Nealon Park, then referred the matter of how much coverage should be allowed in the park to the city council.

They agreed the proposal, as presented, was sound architecturally, but said they felt something should be done to regulate future requests.

"They (the Peninsula Volunteers, Little House operators) had this porch and overhang included in the present building in order that it might shade the walls," City Planner Bob Gray summarized. "There is a future possibility that they will want to build another overhang to protect the new walls, then put down another slab and then glass that in, too."

Considering that ultimate land coverage in parks was a problem for a policy decision and that the recreation commission hadn't favored the building project, the planners okayed the present addition, then referred it to the council.

CHAIRMAN OF MEET

George A. Barnard of Menlo Park is general chairman for the 1962 Spring Joint Computer Conference and Exhibition to be held in San Francisco May 1-3. He is with Philco Western Development Laboratories in Palo Alto.

Last Week:

George Cleese Returns to Seat As City Planning Board eHad

George Cleese Jr. last week was officially returned to his seat as chairman of the Menlo Park Planning Commission, replacing Art Stadler.

Stadler wielded the gavel for the past several months; during that time, Cleese took a trip to Europe and, later, acquainted himself with the current business of the commission.

The move to return the chairman to his chair was made by Stadler himself, who observed that he wanted to get things back into proper order.

After Cleese's unanimous reinstatement, Commissioner Donald Horstkorta nominated Stadler for the vice-chairmanship, the post he'd held before relieving Cleese. No others were nominated, so Stadler was elected to the secondary post.

It was also decided that the planners should re-elect their officers annually in April, at approximately the same time of year that the city council reorganized itself.

Police Find Stolen Auto After Crash

One of two automobiles stolen from the downtown area during the weekend was recovered early Sunday but, as of early this week, the other was still missing.

Police said the auto which was recovered had been run into a tree, then abandoned by the person who was driving it after the theft.

The auto was reported missing Saturday evening by Benjamin Parket, who said he'd parked it the evening before in the Stanford Village parking lot. At 1 a.m. Sunday the vehicle was found by Inspector Ed Schild on Van Buren Avenue. It had been run into a tree and then abandoned, he said. The vehicle was a 1950 model.

Charles Kubokawa, Palo Alto, reported that his 1953 two-door sedan was taken some time between 9:30 p.m. Friday and 1:15 a.m. Sunday. It had been parked in front of 387 Oak Grove Ave., he told police.

As We See It:

The Watiffers Have Arrived To Join the Yes-men and No-men

Readers of current literature undoubtedly are acquainted with such types of people as the Yesmen and Nodders, along with the abominable No-men. Less well identified are the Watiffers, a group becoming increasingly numerous and threatening to invade all fields of creative human activity.

The reason we mention the Watiffers here is because, last week, the Menlo Park planning commission, as a group, showed itself capable of indulging in something akin to the thinking of this newly-identified class of people; they tried to solve a problem which, at the present, doesn't seem to have shaped up to a point where it has to be solved — or indeed, even exists except as a future possibility.

A Watiffer, you should know, is a person who throttles progress of all kinds by asking, continually, questions which start with the phrase, "What if . . ."

"We like to evaluate all possible problems in advance," he will explain in his own defense, "and solve them where possible. This, of course, takes time, but in the long run we feel it expedites things."

Watiffers don't expedite things, though, as can be gathered by a review of the United States' missile-building program of the early 1950's. The Watiffers were at work there; they kept asking their endless questions about acceleration, deceleration, ablation, corrosion, micrometeoritic erosion, solar ray impact and so forth for years.

For a decade, the laboratory mice and monkeys of the United States lived in well-justified fear of being centrifuged, decentrifuged, probed, punched, wired, injected, dieted, x-rayed, gamma-rayed and otherwise experimented on.

Of course it is true that very few rockets left their launching pads during the period and, until about 1955, these were the ones requisitioned from the Germans at the end of World War II. The Watiffers were having a field day; lots of money was being spent and nothing apparent was being accomplished with the exception of the fact that tons of "evaluations" were being assembled.

When in late 1957 the Russians demonstrated that they, too, were thinking in terms of missiles and space ships, the Watiffers were forced into eclipse. In the three and a half years which followed the Russians' launching of Sputnik I, the United States' rocket-building program was redoubled in effectivness manyfold — a couple of men have even been rocketed into space, in spite of all the "risks" the Watiffers were able to think up.

One wonders what would have happened to human progress, if the great inventors had been Watiffers or been plagued by them.

The popular-priced automobile would still be years away if Henry Ford had said something like, "We must do a study on the effect of one-cylinder engine vibration on the spokes of carriage wheels," and then prceeeded to test them — later to go on to tests of every other part of his first car. As things stood in the 1890's, Ford and his contemporaries were too unsophisticated to worry about such things and, because of trial and error experimenting, we now have serviceable autos.

The telephone, too, might not yet have been invented, had Alexander Graham Bell got sidetracked into a study of its possible sociological effects. (There are those who might contend that this would have been a good thing, but we will pass over them at this point.)

The wheel itself might not be with us today, had the Watiffers been around. They could surely have suggested that square weels, oval wheels, eccentric axles, wide wheels, narrow wheels and a whole host of other warpings of the basic concept be checked, before the first primitive wheel be allowed into production.

Watiffers can invade government, too. They're great for making studies and surveys — the lifeblood of bureaucracy. And they can stymie any legislation merely by uttering the magic words, "I recommend that we review this proposal, so that we can anticipate every contingency and perhaps foresee all loopholes which may develop."

This is a great idea, but it sure slows things down.

Christmas Seals A Good Investment

Postmen were busy this week delivering the season's traditional Christmas Seals to homes and business firms in Menlo Park, Atherton, Woodside and East Palo Alto. Some one hundred residents of this community have tuberculosis and an additional indeterminate number have the disease and don't know it. The free chest X-ray offered by the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association at least once a year in Menlo Park and East Palo Alto are an attempt to locate these people so they can begin medical treatment.

In addition to free chest X-rays, the county Christmas Seal association carries on a year round program of health education, efforts to rehabilitate TB victims, and contributes to medical and social research on TB.

These and other activities are financed entirely by the annual Christmas Seal campaign. There is no house-to-house canvass or in-plant solicitation. Instead we are given the opportunity of deciding in the privacy of our homes whether and how much to contribute. This is a low-pressure solicitation for a high-pressure disease which causes untold physical and economic misery.

TELLS US:

Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard, perennial champ of his own private fishing derby, reports that he has the same troubles as other nimrods.

On his most recent outing he caught two undersize striped bass and had to throw them back.

Naturally, the chief keeps his favorite fishing spot confidential; this is just good fishermanship.

They'll announce next week's Big Game the same way, as per usual.

Which always reminds us of the London Times' headline, done in small type, which announced the results of the battle of Jutland in World War I. It read:

"Big Naval Battle."

Municipal Report:

'Brown Act' Problems

The Brown Act, which is designed to keep governmental bodies from meeting in secret, is like may other bits of legislation: Noble in concept, it tends to get off the track at times.

More recently, the act has been "improved" by some amendments which, when first read ,sound like they make it at least theoretically possible to jail unpaid members of public boards for meeting and discussing public business in almost any unannounced circumstance you can think of.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson is a little more realistic than the framers of the new amendments. Last week, in an interpretation forwarded to Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees, he said he felt that, if three board members were to find themselves at the same social gathering, they could discuss school business if they wanted to.

This, he said, would be possible because they'd be meeting as individual members of the public and could be considered to be merely discussing an item of popular concern.

The joker seems to be that if it can be shown that the board members met by prearrangement for the specific purpose of talking over school board business, they're guilty of something or other.

The nobler purpose of the Brown Act seems to be somewhat eclipsed by the technicalities. The reason given for its proposal in the first place was that it would "keep public business public."

There was a need for something along this line in the state of California as a whole. Many elected boards had gotten into the habit of considering themselves as private clubs.

The public had trouble finding out what their elected representatives were doing with the money and in some cases, even newspaper reporters were barred from meetings (if they heard about them at all) or referred to some particular "spokesman" who would meet with them after the gathering of the members of the public body.

The Brown Act had a couple of readily-apparent holes in it. Though it exempted personnel sessions from the category that must be open to the public, meetings at which real estate deals were to be discussed perforce had to be open to reporters and anybody else that wanted to attend.

During the 1950's, this posed a particular hardship on the state's school districts, the boards of which were rightly scrambling for school sites.

An honest report that a school agency had its eye on a particular piece of property often was enough to send property owners and real estate dealers into a tizzy; subdivision maps would be filed and the public agency which merely wanted to negotiate for a piece of bare land found itself paying, also, for "severance damages."

In the case of making real estate purchase negotiations a matter of public record, the Brown Act cost the taxpayers a lot of money.

Another valid criticism of the Brown Act stems from the fact that it forces public agencies to do the work that should be done by the newspapers. Finding out what's going on and where and when it's going to happen ought to be the newspaper's business; the Brown Act forces the public agency to send its agenda to the paper 24 hours in advance of a given meeting, thereby doing about half of the job of reporting.

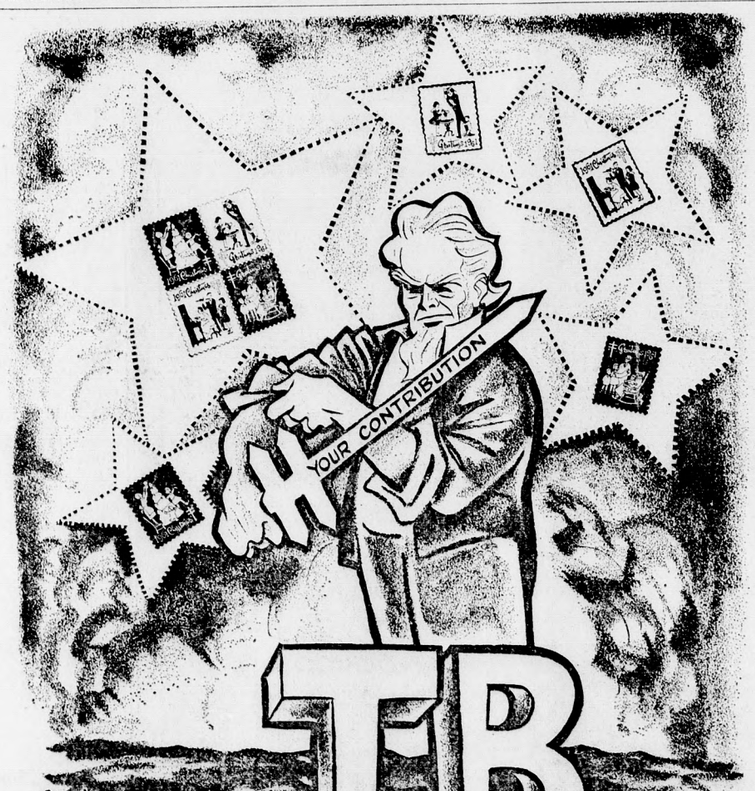

(It's possible, of course, that newspapers would be less effective without this form of subsidy. The business of reporting is a costly one and most newspapers are considered understaffed as it is.)

In the evolution of things, too, public agencies have found that it's advantageous to cooperate with newspapers; some have even hired "public relations" consultants.

The Sequoia High School District and the College of San Mateo both have community relations functionaries, for instance. Their job includes "keeping the public informed" of what's going on in our schools.

While it's pretty obvious that these people aren't going to report anything which might reflect on the intelligence or honesty of the administration or board which hired them, their efforts are sincerely appreciated and, if the cost wasn't borne by the taxpayers, it would have to be paid by the subscribers or advertisers of the newspaper.

And, of course, the papers reserve the right to send a reporter in at any time to check out any phase of the operation of public business.

'Dimes' Drive Here to Aid New Care Unit

The San Mateo County chapter has joined the San Francisco and other California chapters of the National Foundation in the establishment with March of Dimes funds of the first Birth Defects Special Treatment Center in this state, it was announced this week.

The new center at which infants and children born with birth defects in Menlo Park and throughout California can get expert care is located at Children's Hospital in San Francisco, it was disclosed at a conference there this week.

"This new Bireth Defects Special Treatment Center, supported by March of Dimes funds from our county chapter, is a long step toward realizing the expanded public health program of the National Foundation," according to Ray Spinelli, local real estate broker and city chairman here for the 1962 New March of Dimes campaign in January.

Statistics show that "almost 700 babies a day are born with birth defects in the United States alone," Spinelli said, adding that "there are more than 21,000 deaths each year from birth defects, which is 15 times as many as are caused by scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, whooping cough and polio combined."

SOOT IN CHIMNEY

Soot in the chimney at a home at 145 Doherty Lane took fire Saturday at 4:58 p.m., resulting in a call to firemen. They said no damage resulted, although householders were alarmed by the smoke.

County Comment:

Election Races Start Slowly

By FLOYD F. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

From the way things are shaping up at the present time, the 1962 election picture looks like it could turn into a real donneybrook.

Of course there is the distinct probability that Assemblymen Carl A. Britschgi and Louis Francis of San Mateo will fight it out for the south county position. The recent reapportionment of the state cut Francis out of his north county district, and while he refuses to make any announcement as to his intentions, political gossip has it that he is willing to take on the incumbent in this area.

That could be a hot inter-party fight which could hurt the Republicans in the November runoff — providing the Democrats put up a candidate that carries some weight, not the weaklings of past years.

The fact that Congressman J. Arthur Younger will run for another two-year term eliminates the possibility of Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore seeking that office. He has never announced he ever wanted to run for that job but most political observers think he has his eye set on the Washington post.

This does not mean that opponents won't be out gunning for him come June and November.

The recent tirade of the district attorney against the sheriff's office apparently was just another attempt to make the sheriff look bad. Talking to many people, however, we'd say that the DA's actions backfired if anything at all.

We can't see any hot races for supervisor next year, although both Board Chairman E. R. McDonald of Burlingame and Louis Chess of San Mateo may have opposition. Both seem populer because of good records and long service, which makes for friends.

Chess in his four years in office has become one of the most popular supervisors to sit on the board for years .He recently was elected to the board of directors of the County Supervisors Association of California and undoubtedly is headed for the presidency.

McDonald, long a favorite board member of most people, may have a different district to represent in the boundary changes, but he and other board members are elected county wide so this will make little difference.

There could be some opponents for other offices, but so far not one has come forward or indicated he planned to run. We can think of two or three prominent men who have been "itching" to seek a county office but without any drastic platforms to entice the voters apparently realize they have little chance.

Some hopeful might base a campaign, for instance, on changing the assessment practices. Immediately he would run into state laws prohibiting the changes, thus giving the incumbent even more chances of victory.

There probably will be no big political announcements until around the first of the year or later so it's very early to guess or predict what the ballot may bring.

A measure that undoubtedly will be on either the June or November ballot is a whopping big bond issue for road building. May be as much as $40 millions to build feeder roads in every section of the county and within the incorporated cities.

All of the incorporated cities have agreed to go along with their share of the cost of conducting a survey which would show the needs and an estimate of costs. So far Redwood City, Daly City, San Bruno and San Mateo have not gone along. but the latter city is said to be in accord with the program.

Redwood City, which only this year managed to get $250,000 out of the county road funds to help rush the Five Points overpass along, is raising as much opposition as anyone.

Too bad the supervisors voted to aid the local project or the city council here would not be so critical of the overall county program. The county has agreed to pay two-thirds of the cost of the survey estimated at not more than $200,000.

The balance, or approximately $67,000, would be split among the cities on a population basis. This would mean Redwood City would have to pay about $6700. We'd say our own council has acted pretty cheap after the county handed over the $250,000 "gift."

25 Years Ago:

City Scene Of Crash Of Airplane

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

December 4, 1936:

Captain A. S. Gregory, San Francisco newspaperman and reserve army officer, was killed in a dive of his airplane last Sunday morning.

He is reported to have been saluting his friend, Dr. J. D. B———, when his plane went out of control and he plunged to his death in a vacant lot on Partridge Avenue.

Expert observers say that Capt. Gregory chose to dive his ship directly into the ground, rather than making a flat landing which in all probability would have saved his life but would have bounced his ship with its load of flaming gasoine into adjoining houses.

An alarm was sent to the Menlo Park fire department, which was at the scene of the crash within two minutes with two engines, but the fire was so hot that it was some time before the firemen were able to get to the wrecked ship.

A large crowd of Menlo Park residents witnessed the fatal crash.

the Scoop

Howard Largent, owner of Menlo Prescription Pharmacy, and a member of the board of directors of the Northern California Pharmaceutical Association, and Bob and Joyce Clifford, owners of Bob Clifford's Pharmacies, have just completed four weeks of schooling in the Continuing Education of Medicine at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. The group of informal lectures was arranged by the University of California School of Pharmacy and the office of Continuing Education and Medicine and Sciences in cooperation with the Alumni Association of the School of Pharmacy. The series was designed to cover problems faced by pharmacists in rapidly changing fields of business management.

The next series will deal with Endocrinology for Pharmacies and will cover the science and study of internal secretions and endoctrine glands, their physiology and pathology, and is part of a continuing program of extended education for pharmacists.

Cancer Society Opens New HQ

New headquarters were opened last week by the San Mateo County branch of the American Cancer Society at 1517 South B St., San Mateo, where all phases of the organization's work will be handled. New telephone number is 341-8749.

The new offices will provide 2500 square feet of floor space, providing adequate area for the growing work of the society in the county.

In addition to offices, meeting rooms and storage areas for equipment, there is ample space for volunteers to work on projects of the organization.

Troop 108:

Menlo Park's Second Oldest Scout Troop Notes 23rd Year

A recent Court of Honor held by Church of Nativity's Troop 108 noted its twenty-third anniversary.

The troop was founded in 1938 by the Rev. T. J. McKeon and Charles Oram, making it the second oldest troop in Menlo Park.

Honorary guests were the past Scoutmasters of Troop 108. These Scouters included Charles Oram, John Spieker, Robert Trottier, Dr. Robert Naughton and the present Scoutmasters, Michael Demeter and Frank Lipousky. All of the above Scouters represented over 114 years of active Scouting.

James Taylor, Live Oak District Scout executive, praised these leaders for their outstanding leadership to their community.

Awards for the Court of Honor included: Life Scout badges to Senior Scouts James Charkins and Richard Gunn. Other awards included 23 merit badges, eight second class, 20 tenderfoot awards, den chief cords and Kit Carson Camp patches.

Eight second class badges were presented to Charles Cantwell, Thomas Deasy, James Golden, Frederick Krouse, Neal O'Brien, Bruce Schnittger, Ronald Stebbins and James Quass.

Twenty tenderfoot awards were presented to: Robert Schmolze, Michael Dunn, Richard Cummings, Patrick Farber, Timothy Maher, Robert Paine, Harry Moyer, Mark Skrabo, Michael Klick, Douglas Klick, David Wirth, James Hogan, Chris D'Alessandro, Richard Gronenthal, Frank Sullivan, Peter Lancestremere, John Majeski, Lee South and Steven Smith.

Troop 108 has recently spent a weekend camp out at Big Basin and members are currently completing requirements on the canoeing merit badge.

The Senior Scouts will conduct a three-day canoe trip down the Russian River over the Thanksgiving holiday.

(Oldest Boy Scout Troop in Menlo Park is Troop 107, established in 1921 and made a permanent troop in 1924 when L. E. Harris, the Recorder's founding publisher, took over as Scoutmaster.

(It was for more than 27 years under the leadership of Scoutmaster Floyd Beach, who died earlier this month.—ed.)

Program Slated For Junior Library Friends

To celebrate Children's Book Week, Patricia Miles Martin will talk about her books to the Junior Friends of the Menlo Park Library on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m. in the library lounge.

A favorite with children, Mrs. Martin will answer questions about how she came to write her books, "The Pointed Brush," "Suzu and The Bride Doll," and th newest one, "Kickapoo."

Mrs. Martin was a tacher before her marriage and now lives in San Mateo. She writes full time in a pantry-turned-office. Started as a hobby, her writing has yielded three published books a year since 1957. She also writes reviews of children's books which appear in the Omaha World Herald and various California newspapers.

Artists' illustrations used in her books are on view in the children's room at the library where copies of her books will be available for circulation after her talk.

Children's librarian Mrs. Gae Lucas has on display special Book Week decorations and new books for children as well as new editions of old favorites.

Although planned for the boys and girls of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Mrs. Martin's talk is for anyone interested in children's books.

—Obituaries—

Frank Hall

Private funeral services were held Tuesday for Frank Hall, a resident of this area since 1930 who died Saturday at his home, 570 Menlo Oaks Drive, at the age of 55.

Hall, who had most recently been employed in the purchasing department of Stanford University, had been the victim of a heart condition for the past several years. He was a native of England.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Margaret Hall of Menlo Park and a sister, Miss Mabel Hall of Burlingame.

Funeral services were conducted from the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield Road in Palo Alto, with interment following at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

The family has indicated that contributions to the Santa Clara County Heart Association are preferred as memorials.

E. H. Decker

Eugene Huxter Decker, a resident of Menlo Park for more than 25 years before moving to San Jose two years ago, died Friday here at the age of 83 years.

Decker had been a bricklayer before his retirement many years ago.

He was a native of Sun City, Kansas.

Survivors include four sons and two daughters, Florian Decker of Los Altos Hills, Clifford Decker of Redwood City, Garald Decker of Golden, Colorado; Mrs. Thelma Feeley, Menlo Park, Mrs. Olga Baskett of Redwood City and Clayton Decker of Westminster, Colorado.

In addition he is survived by four brothers and four sisters, 26 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandson.

Funeral services were conducted Monday from the Johnston Colonial Mortuary, 650 Live Oak Ave., and were followed by private interment.

Louise Butow

Mrs. Louise Marie Butow, a resident of Menlo Park for the past 21 years, died early yesterday at Palo Alto Stanford Hospital, after a long illness, at the age of 79.

Mrs. Butow had made her final home at 761½ Partridge Ave. She was a native of Switzerland.

She was the mother of William E. Butow of Oakland, Fred Butow of Menlo Park and Robert J. C. Butow of Seattle, and the grandmother of Richard J. Butow and Ellen T. Butow of Menlo Park and William Butow of Florence, Italy.

Funeral services are pending at the Johnston Colonial Mortuary, 650 Live Oak Ave., Menlo Park.

Justyna Majde

Funeral services were held Friday for Mrs. Justyna Majde, who died Thursday at Palo Alto hospital at the age of 83.

Mrs. Majde had made her home here for the past three years, living with her daughter, Mrs. Louise Majde, at 735 Roble Ave. She had made her home in Chicago for many years prior to coming to this area.

Mrs. Majde was a native of Poland.

Funeral services were conducted from the Johnston Colonial Mortuary, 650 Live Oak Ave., with inurnment following at Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

Helen Donohue

Funeral services are to be held today for Mrs. Helen Donohue, a resident of Menlo Park for eight years before moving to Palo Alto seven years ago.

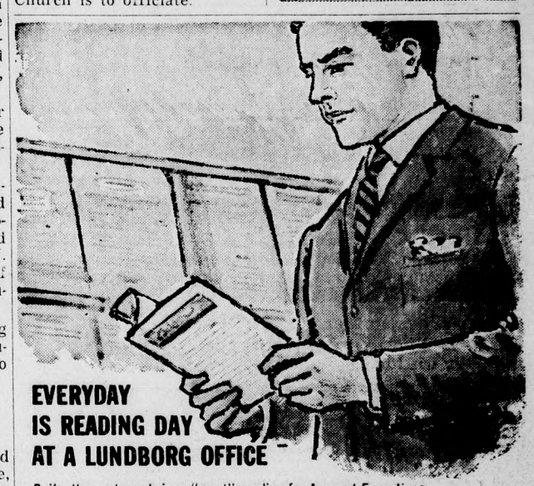

Mrs. Donohue, 52, died after an illness of several months. A native of New York City, she had been employed as a secretary, first by an area real estate firm and later by a Palo Alto clothing store. She made her final home at 604 Matadero Road.

She was the wife of Frank Donohue, area traffic manager for Dean Van Lines, which has headquarters here.

Surviving her are her husband and three children: Mrs David DeMartinie and Misses Judith and Kathleen Donohue all of Palo Alto. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dobbs of Santa Cruz and a brother and sister also survive.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 10:15 a.m. at the chapel of Roller and Hapgood 980 Middlefield Road in Palo Alto. The Rev. Canon E. E West of St. Mark's Episcopal Church is to officiate.

School Parents' Cub Unit Changes Name

The Bethany Parent-Teacher League meeting in the parish hall of the church Monday, Nov. 13, voted officially to change its name from the School Club of Bethany Lutheran Church to the new title.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. Betty Lou VanDalsem, director of guidance and research of the Sequoia Union High School District. Her talk was on "Intelligence, Aptitudes and Talents."

On intelligence, she said that there were several levels and that intelligence is the ability to think in all areas. Aptitudes were also considered to be different. She spoke on verbal reasoning, abstract reasoning and space relations used in geometry.

She then discussed the various tests that were psed to grade the children — the Stanford-Benet test, the California Achievement test, the California test of mental maturity and the Coleman-Finch test.

Date for the Bethany Parent-Teacher League Christmas program was set for Tuesday, Dec. 24. All grade school children will take part in it.

Baptist Church Seeks Quarters

The First Southern Baptist Church of Menlo Park, which began as a mission nearly three years ago and has been meeting in the Menlo Park recreation clubrooms in civic center, is looking for a new location.

The pastor, the Rev. Bryan Smith, is the former assistant pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Redwood City where he resides. A graduate of California Baptist College at Riverside, he will be graduated from the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Mill Valley in April.

Youth leader for the church, Byron Worth, is a graduate of Baylor College. Formerly an engineering student at Stanford, he has been licensed by the church to preach. Attending the Golden Gate Seminary, he is also a candidate for an Air Force chaplain's commission.

Meet Wendy Naesheim

When you pay your telephone bill it is likely that you may have talked to this young lady at one time or another. She is Miss Wendy Naesheim, a Counter Teller at the Palo Alto Business Office. Wendy began her career as a teller in June, 1961. Hers is one of the many responsible jobs the Pacific Telephone Company offers women.

Do you know how the telephone company helps bring you network TV?

From a studio, a network television program is sent first to a telephone company TV control center like the one shown at right. From here, the television picture speeds along a network of special telephone circuits to stations in other cities for broadcasting to homes. At check points across the land, the program is carefully watched on monitoring screens. Highly trained telephone men check constantly so you'll get the best possible picture on your television set.

In this way telephone people help bring you television from the entertainment capitals of the nation.

Remember the first portable radios? They were giants compared to the tiny pocket-size models so commonplace today. The invention of the transistor by the Bell Telephone Laboratories helped make smaller radios possible.

That was in 1948. Today, transistors are used throughout the telephone industry and in everything from hearing aids to satellites.

Local Builder Gets Top Prize In Home Design Judging

First grand prize in a national contest for quality homes has been awarded to Mackay Homes of Menlo Park for a four-bedroom, two-bath model currently offered in several of the firm's northern California developments.

The award-winner, selected by a panel of housing experts from a field of some 300 entries across the United States, will be honored with a plaque at a special reception to be held at the National Association of Homebuilders' convention on Dec. 3 in Chicago. American Builder sponsored the 1961 Quality Model Home contest.

The grand prize also included two round-trip tickets from New York to Europe via Icelandic Air lines as an educational housing tour sponsored by American Builder to enable United States builders to study the housing techniques, methods and projects of other countries.

Entries were judged on the basis of quality of floor plan, exterior and interior design and quality of construction and products.

The prize-winning model home features an unusual living room in which a floor-to-ceiling fireplace with raised hearth stands adjacent to full length windows overlooking the rear patio. A cathedral-beamed ceiling further creates the feeling of space and drama in this room. The home includes a generous family room and a choice of three or four bedrooms, the fourth bedroom with its own outdoor patio entrance.

Versions of the winning home are currently being built in Rosemont in Sunnyvale; in Forest Park, the Santa Clara development of Mackay Homes; in The Woodlands of Walnut Creek, and Foothill Farms, the company's largest development, located in Sacramento.

Bruce Werlhof Is Eagle Scout In Troop 107

Bruce Werlhof, son of the John R. Schumachers of Atherton, was promoted to the rank of Eagle Scout Monday night during a Boy Scout Troop 107 court of honor program which paid tribute to the late Floyd C. Beach, the troop's former Scoutmaster. The program was held at Hillview School.

Bruce joined the troop in October, 1957.

William Cutter, who started the tradition of presenting all new Eagle Scouts with a $25 check, spoke to the troop and their parents about the responsibilities of being a Scout. Seventy-four merit badges were presented during the evening.

SRI Specialists Study Formosa For New Industry

A team of specialists from Stanford Research Institute arrived in Taipei, Formosa, last week to begin a study of opportunities for productive investment by foreign companies in that country.

Team members are Charles L. Hamman, senior economist, and Harry J. Robinson, specialist in studies related to the problems of newly developing areas. Other SRI staff members will join Hamman and Robinson as the study progresses.

The Formosa survey, expected to last about six months, is being sponsored by the International Cooperation Administration (ICA). It was undertaken at the request of the Government of the Republic of China.

HEADS FOR FRESNO

Sophomore class president Dave Parker of Menlo Park will represent the College of San Mateo in a section on current problems, at a meeting of the California Junior College Student Government Association, Nov. 16 through 18 in Fresno.

P.A. Mutual to Open New Office Monday

Scheduled for opening on Monday, Nov. 20 the new Menlo Park office of Palo Alto Mutual Savings and Loan Association will provide greatly increased facilities for serving the Association's savings and loan accounts.

The building occupies a 130-foot frontage site at 650 Santa Cruz Ave., and will replace the Association's offices for the past eight years at 780 Santa Cruz. The structure is divided into two sections, separated by a covered pedestrian walkway which extends from Santa Cruz Avenue in the front to a parking plaza in the rear. Palo Alto Mutual will use the southwest side of the walkway, occupying a space of about 5000 square feet divided into the large central room, in which most of the dealings with the public are conducted. Besides this room there is a vault, a manager's office, and auxiliary facilities situated on the main floor and a small mezzanine.

The portion of the building across the pedestrian walkway totals about 5800 square feet and will be rented for commercial use. Entry to both sections of the building is from the walkway.

Architects are Clark, Stromquist, Potter, and Ehrlich. Construction was by W. A. Moroney, Inc., interior decorating by Dorothy Hawley, and landscaping by Arthur Cobbledick.

Palo Alto Mulual was founded in 1892 and in addition to the Menlo Park branch, has a branch in Los Altos. Main office is in Palo Alto.

Foreign Trade Is LWV Topic

Emile Despres, Stanford University professor of economics, was scheduled to speak yesterday afternoon at a foreign policy meeting of the Menlo Park League of Women Voters. The session was at the home of Mrs. R. C. Beverstock, 354 Walsh Road, Atherton.

Prof. Despres, whose specialty is international trade and economic development, was slated to discuss such questions as liberalizing foreign trade, trade concessions for developing countries, and programs for injured industries or communities.

Insurance Firm Names Agent

Menlo Park resident D. Greg Badger has been named special agent for the Herb Schilbe agency of the Prudential Insurance Co., it was announced this week.

Badger, who has been active in the Scouting movement most of his life, was a Scout executive for 24 years. He served on the national staff for more than eight years.

He and his wife, Janet, have a son, Bruce, 15, a Star Scout. The Badgers reside at 1030 Tehama Ave.

TO VISIT MENLO

Thomas B. Caswell, Jr., admissions officer of Brown University, will visit Menlo School this morning, Nov. 16. He will meet with interested students and confer with officers of the school. Caswell is currently on tour, visiting schools in the western states.

Hiller Machine:

Locally Developed Helicopter Unveiled in Nation's Capital

Hiller Aircraft Corp. of Menlo Park revealed in Washington this week a new six-place turbine-powered assault helicopter whiche has been in secret flight tests for the past several months.

The helicopter, known as the Hiller "Ten99," is being proposed to the U.S. Marine Corps to fulfill a pending "major" requirement for an Assault Support Helicopter (ASH).

President Stanley Hiller Jr., said the company's new Ten99 is a flying example of the improved capability now possible in light helicopters through the use of turbine power, Ten 99 will carry six people — twice that of currently operational helicopters using reciprocating engines and of the same overall dimensions.

Ten99 will carry more than a half-ton of cargo, double that of current ships its size. Also completely unique in the light helicopter class is Ten99's 100 cu. ft. cargo and passenger compartment, which is separate from the pilot's cabin and which has large clamshell doors, opening the compartment's entire aft end for quick loading of bulky cargo and litter patients. Four other doors on both sides of the aircraft are used for pilot and passenger access.

Ten99 is powered by a 500 horsepower Canadian Pratt & Whitney PT6 turbine engine, chosen for its quiet operation and because it was the most fully tested and accepted turbine powerplant of North American manufacture which is applicable to light helicopters.

The new helicopter, which resulted from market evaluatoins, design analyses and wind tunnel testing begun 2½ years ago, was entirely company-financed. In addition to the Marine Corps combat assault mission requirement, Ten99 will also be proposed by Hiller as a Navy fleet light utility helicopter.

Allan E. Lee Named V-P For ISA

Allan E. Lee, manager of Stanford Research Institute's electronics industry economics group, has been elected vice president of the Instrument Society of America.

Purpose of the society is to advance theory, design, manufacture, and use of scientific instruments. It has 12,000 members.

Lee has been a past president of the Northern California section of the Instrument Society; he also orgainzed its Santa Clara Valley section.

Upon joining SRI in 1955 Lee was involved in the development of ERMA, the automatic banking system developed for the Bank of America. Subsequently, he has specialized in electronics market research.

His previous experience included two years as a transportation rate analyst and three years with the Union Oil Company as chief instrument engineer.

Lee has a B.S. degree in electrical engineering from the University of California, and holds an M.B.A. degree from the Harvard University Graduate School of Business.

Tyson Speaks At SRI Meet

Robert C. Tyson, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, will speak on "The Great Research" in San Francisco today at the annual meeting of the Associates of Stanford Research Institute. The meeting will be held at Mark Hopkins Hotel. About 400 business leaders will attend.

Associates of the Institute are individuals and corporations which have contributed to SRI's growth and development through contributions of capital funds.

Also during the session, E. Finley Carter, president of SRI, will give his annual progress report to the Associates.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (Special) — Barry L. Segulyev, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. eBrnard Segulyev of 785 Coleman Ave., Menlo Park, is serving aboard the heavy cruiser USS Helena, home ported at San Diego.

The Helena, flagship of the First Fleet, is taking part in Exercise "Covered Wagon"

Dinner Event Is Tonight At Kelly Park

Eight golden-brown turkeys, plus all the trimmings, will be waiting for Menlo Park residents at the Joseph B. Kelly Park recreation building tonight as the feature course of a pre-Thanksgiving pot-luck dinner.

"Our purpose is to improve the spirit of community togetherness and enhance the spirit of Thanksgiving with a community dinner," Sam Dawson, co-leader at the city recreation area, declared.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. A number of city officials have indicated they'll be on hand to partake of the Thanksgiving feast at Kelly Park, located at the end of Terminal Avenue in the Belle Haven area.

Dawson noted that children will have to be accompanied by their parents.

Co-chairmen of the dinner committee are Mrs. Mary Gordon and Mrs. Charlotte Dawson. Assisting them will be Mrs. Van Parrish, Mrs. Lucretta Van Zandt, Mrs. Louise Faulkner and Mrs. Jewel Young.

In Ravenswood:

Board Reacts to 'Red' Charge

The controversy over alleged Communist influence in study halls sponsored by local NAACP chapters, which reached the boiling point last week, subsided to a simmer at the Ravenswood City School District board meeting Monday night.

Board president Wesley A. Pomeroy read a three-page board statement which said that trustees could not find any basis "for the contention that the local chapter of the NAACP is Communist-dominated."

In addition, the statement said, the district cannot legally keep any group from using school facilities providing the group is not devoted to the overthrow of the United States government.

The board statement was in the form of a letter to Mrs. Myron Basso, 2610 Fordham St., East Palo Alto, who protested use of Garden Oaks School classrooms by the NAACP-sponsored study halls. Mrs. Basso wrote that "a massive campaign" to unseat the school board would be started if this school board permission wasn't rescinded.

Pomeroy said after the meeting that this recall threat was "absolutely irrelevant" to the subject at hand.

After Pomeroy had read both letters, the only person to react from the audience was Hal Gross of Palo Alto, a Stanford law school graduate, who said he wanted to make a few comments on the controversy and its relation to constitutional law.

But Pomeroy asked that all discussion to be confined to the issue of the Garden Oaks study hall.

There was no more discussion from the floor although the school board meeting room was filled. No opposition to the board position was expressed.

Initial controversy about the study halls arose after the statement by John Nichols, Kavanaugh PTA president, that Edward Becks, president of the local NAACP chapter, had been identified as a Communist. Becks has denied this tag.

Neither man was present at the school board meeting Monday.

Here are the complete texts of the letters read Monday night:

BASSO LETTER

"I object to your approval of study groups supervised and constructed by an identified communist, Ed. Beck. If you continue to approve, we anticipate starting a massive campaign dedicated to the complete removal of our current 'trusted school board.'

"Is this verbal approval to be continued or can we legitimately expect your forthright withdrawal of any continued support for this type of activity?"

SCHOOL BOARD LETTER

"Dear Mrs. Basso:

"Your letter to the Ravenswood City School District Board of Trustees reflects a genuine concern about what you regard as a very serious threat to the welfare of the children in the district. Because we respect your feelings and attitudes in this matter, we will attempt to answer your questions about it clearly and factually.

"First of all, no one, it seems, can deny that the basic idea of providing a place to study for children who cannot study in their own homes is sound. There are homes in the district that house families so large that there is simply no quiet space left where a school child can study properly. An outside study hall would give such a child an opportunity to study and grow that he would not otherwise have.

"In your letter, of course, you do not quarrel with this basic concept. You do, seriously question the propriety of its expression, however, through the current program sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, because of your belief that the program is Communist-inspired and directed, and therefore incapable of being controlled by the school district.

"Mrs. Basso, the Board does not know whether or not there are members of the Communist party in the local chapter of the NAACP. We, as you, have heard the attacks that have been made against certain NAACP members, and we may individually entertain personal opinions concerning their reliability.

"The evidence strongly indicates, however, that the local NAACP chapter membership mainly made up of well-motivated, conscientious residents of the area. Furthermore, there has been no indication to us that this organization has supported any type of program in any area that could be characterized as subversive. In short, there seems to be no basis for the contention that the local chapter of the NAACP is Communist-dominated.

"Even if it were, use of school facilities could not be denied to any organization for a study hall program since the 'intent and purpose' (of the legislature in enacting school code section have such a purpose, and since its study hall program has not demonstrated such a purpose, the Board has no discretion to deny use of school facilities to the NAACP for its program.

"Under Section 16557 of the Education Code, the Board has the right to prescribe that the use of school facilities is subject to reasonable rules and regulations. The Board has done this through the Superintendent and his Staff. The Administration has asked for and received (1) a statement of the aims and purposes of the study hall program, and (2) the identities and qualifications of those persons who will supervise the study.

"In addition, the following conditions were complied with:

"1. NO TEACHING IS TO BE DONE.

"2. No study material of any kind is to be furnished by the sponsors and workers in the program.

"3. Resource material is to be limited to that available in the Garden Oaks library and that which is brought by the students, themselves.

"The Board has neither endorsed nor criticized this program. It can do neither until such time as the program has proven either its worth or its lack of it. We are fully aware of the potential for either good or evil in the program, and we will continue to monitor its progress.

LWV Will Hear Pros, Cons On Rapid Transit

Pros and cons on the proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit System will be discussed by a four-man panel Thursday, Nov. 30, during an open meeting of the Menlo Park League of Women Voters in the city hall council chamber.

Speaking for rapid transit will be B. R. Stokes, assistant general manager of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, and Don M. Davis, representative of Stone and Youngberg, the district's economic consultants.

Arguing against the plan will be Angelo Siracusa, assistant manager of San Mateo Development Assn., Inc., and W. Kenneth Norris, executive director of the Government Research Council of San Mateo County. The latter group's subtitle is "A Taxpayers' Organization Working for Economy in Government."

Each panel member will be allotted ten minutes during the sesion beginning at 8 p.m. The talks will be followed by questions from the floor.

SRI Researcher To Be Speaker

Dr. Julius Brandstatter, senior mathematical physicist with the Stanford Research Institute will be one of the principal speakers in the "Nuclear War and Individual Survival" lecture series beginning Nov. 18 in San Francisco at the University of California Extension Center.

The weekly series is presented by UC Extension in order to provide individuals with available information on the facts of nuclear warfare. The Saturday morning sessions will meet from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

High School Sets Policy On Curriculum

Local elementary school administrators have been notified of a change in Sequoia High School District policy, which allows students high school credit on courses of the "high school" level given in elementary school.

The policy change was based on a recommendation of the Sequoia District Curriculum council.

Under new wording, the present high school district policy reads:

"No high school credit will be allowed for courses taught at the elementary school level."

High school credit will not be allowed for college-level courses unless such courses are a part of the high school curriculum and are either taught by high school teachers or taken by correspondence under conditions of present district policy, the statement adds.

High school district Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner added that elementary school agencies of the area have been notified.

African Teachers Visit Woodside, Valley Schools

"Your schools are made to fit the children, while in Kenya the children are made to fit the schools," Gulzar Sunderji recently told Woodside grade school teachers.

Some of the complex problems still facing Kenya's educators were described by Miss Sunderji last Friday at the Woodside Elementary School. She was one of 15 African educators visiting San Mateo County schools under the auspices of the U.S. State Department's Agency for International Development.

Clad in a colorful sari, which she says she wears only for special occasions, Miss Sunderji explained during a teacher "coffee" that most of Kenya's new schools are being built by the people they serve on a cooperative basis.

Older buildings that have been pressed into school service are, in many cases, extremely inadequate for meeting the children's needs, she said.

Woodside's elementary school first impressed her for its beautiful natural setting. During her three-month U.S. tour, she has also been struck by the great variety of subjects offered in American schools, especially on the secondary level.

Schools in Kenya are still patterned on the British system—highly academic and less flexible in subject matter — according to Miss Sunderji, an instructor in child development at the Coast Teachers College in Mombasa.

SELECTIVE

Although 80 per cent of Kenya's children now start the first grade, education remains highly selective, with only some 15 per cent of the nation's young people getting into secondary schools.

This is because children are chosen not only on intelligence but for their parents' ability to pay for their education.

Kenya's educators are now working toward putting primary and secondary education within the reach of all, Miss Sunderji advised.

Another hurdle for educators is the multiplicity of Kenya's languages. There are four Indian and ten African tongues in the country, she said. And to make matters worse, there are 80 different tribes, each with its own dialect.

English is making great strides as a basic language, and even in Africa's French-speaking countries is becoming a second language, according to Miss Sunderji, a third generation Indian in Kenya who speaks fluent English, Swahili, and her family's Indian tongue.

"We now start teaching the first graders in their tribal languages, and introduce English in the third grade," she explained.

As to her U.S. visit, Miss Sunderji laughed and said she recently wrote back to her principal asking for a vacation on her return to Mombasa.

"The pace of life in America is very fast," she remarked. "You know, most Kenyans get their impressions from Hollywood films and think all Americans have luxurious lives of ease."

The personable Miss Sunderji said she'd try to correct this impression of Americans, especially since she's seen so many of them "up at 6:30 a.m. going to work along the freeways."

Another African educator, Ezerina Mwaipopo, was visiting Portola Valley and Las Lomitas District grade schools last Friday. Miss Mwaipopo is headmistress of the Government Girls Middle School in Tanganvika.

Councilmen Overrule Planners

Woodside's town council Monday voted 7-0 to override a planning commission rejection of a strip of undersize lots in the giant Summit Springs subdivision.

During a hearing on an appeal of the latest commission 2-2 vote stymie, councilmen restated what they had said in a previous informal approval of the project:

That they found the subdivision to be in the best interests of the town despite the 17 lots below the town's three-acre minimum requirements.

With the problem of undersize lots out of the way, the Willen Corp., the subdivision's developers, feel that it is now financially feasible to go ahead with the project, which has 627 acres divided into 184 lots.

A tentative map of the subdivision must still be approved by the planners.

The developers, twice stymied by a commission 2-2 vote, have pared the project down from 200 to 184 parcels in attempts to meet Woodside's three-acre minimum lot size.

Jack Van Zant, vice-president of engineers, Wilsey, Ham and Blair, pointed out that the 17 lots in question are backed by 1200 acres of California watershed land, thus assuring plenty of open space for homeowners.

He also said they'll be among the most desirable because they include more buildable space.

A suggestion by Town Planner William Spangle Jr. that the road next to the watershed property be moved was played down by Van Zant because he said it would cause an unnecessary fire hazard.

About $50,000 already has been spent on the project and developers must receive an official go-ahead before more funds can be spent, K. W. Richardson, Willen Corp. vice-president, told the council.

HS Musicians Headed for Meet

Members of the combined orchestras of Woodside and Menlo-Atherton High Schools during January will participate in a reading clinic, to be held at San Francisco State College.

Those participating will try reading music written especially for high school and college orchestras and choruses.

Members of orchestras from Northren California will attend and will work under various music directors who will attend.

Toolshed Fire In Woodside

An estimated $1000 in damage resulted Saturday morning when a toolshed roof burned on the property of O. M. Grolla 177 Goya, Woodside.

Firemen said the blaze was caused by a smoldering cardboard box left in the building after it had been emptied of fireplace ashes.

Woodside Objects To College

San Mateo Junior Colege District trustees this week are considering Woodside's objections to the posible selection of the college's south campus site within Woodside boundaries.

The objections presented at a trustees' hearing last week by Woodside Mayor William Lowe and Councilmen Donald Graham and Selah Chamberlain were based on the community's residential nature, low tax base, traffic burden, and lack of adequate fire and police protection.

"What bothers me is that you have set up a wall," said Julio L. Bortolazzo, the college's superintendent. "You have established a policy of opposing a possible college site before there has been any discussion. I would hope that we could sit down and work this out to the best interests of the entire junior college district and the community of Woodside."

College trustees emphasized that no site had yet been selected. Seven properties are at present being analyzed on the basis of established site criteria.

Supt. Bortolazzo also indicated that a southern property should be chosen within the next 45 days.

"Otherwise," he stated, "our problems of increasing cost and other factors will be far more serious than they are now."

Transit Plan Vetoed By Council

Woodside went on record this week opposing the proposed Bay Area rapid transit plan.

The town council Monday rejected the plan because of what it considers an excessive tax burden involved in the project.

The council, in voting 5-2 against the plan, said it might reconsider the plan if it were revamped to serve more people. The Woodside vote will be registered at the county board of supervisors meeting on rapid transit Dec. 7.

Voting for the plan were Councilman Charles L. Wheeler and Robert F. Gill.

In other business, the council:

Held a public hearing on zoning ordinance amendents. The change would allow both the appelant and any other interested parties to be heard by the council on appeals regarding planning commission decisions.

Cats - Trojans Tomorrow

Footballitis, a strange malady which breaks out only in the fall, reached epidemic proportions at Ravenswood High this week.

The symptoms? They usually consist of repeating the words "Beat Woodside!" in a loud, penetrating voice.

And the cure, Trojan fans say, is another victory this Friday over arch-rival Woodside High School.

The game will be played on the Wildcat turf with kickoff slated for 2:45 p.m.

In the rugged SPAL, neither team has been a great 1961 success. But a victory by one over the other will make up for a lot of things.

A Woodside win would be the first time the Wildcats have been able to defeat a Howard Costello-coached Trojan varsity. The teams played to a 13-13 tie in 1959, and Ravenswood dealt out a 12-7 defeat to the Wildcats last season with Ray Askew and Mike Phelan doing the damage. So the Woodsiders want this one badly.

A victory by the Trojans could be another indication that Costello's new crop of backfield men — most of whom will return in 1962 — will improve the local squad's potential next time around.

Ravenswood and Woodside are both coming off victories last week. The Wildcats defeated San Carlos for their second SPAL win of the season and the Trojans demolished Mt. Eden 38-14 with their best offensive attack in the school's short history.

Woodside coach Paul Braunreiter had a couple of bits of bad news for the Trojans this week, however. Senior end Gary Thurston and junior QB Bill Welsh are still there and getting stronger after making their returns from illness and injuries last week and starring in the Wildcat victory over San Carlos. Thurston returned last Wednesday after having mononucleosis and Welsh had a bad ankle.

Braunreiter wasn't too sure about junior fullback Dick Specht, who aggravated an old ankle infirmity in practice Tuesday, but don't be too surprised if he turns up — these Wildcats always seem to come back early. Thurston was expected to have been gone for the season.

That Woodside line, anchored by guard Charlie Kirgis, center John Scott and linebacker Bob Watson (another one not looked for so soon after an injury) made a mockery of the San Carlos offense last week, not allowing the Dons across the 50-yard line for the last three full quarters.

It should be interesting to see what the Cats do about the Trojan shotgun as aimed by junior tailback Lou Ciaruffoli, who threw for 175 yards and four touchdowns in the romp over Mt. Eden. Or about breakaway artist Bobby Washington (127 pounds) who covered 168 yards over in the East Bay and looks more all the time like a suitable replacement for all-SPAL Askew.

It is assumed also that the Cats are working on a large enough blanket to cover senior halfback Jim Tabor, Ciaruffoli's favorite target, who scored three with them against Mt. Eden and was instrumental in scaring the daylights out of San Carlos in their 27-20 loss to the Dons two weeks ago.

But do what they will, the Braunreitermen already have an unexpectedly good season record behind them of 4-3-1 so can do no worse than break even. The Trojans are 1-6 for the year but are willing to improve.

We're Almost Ready....

Kiwanians Join 'Day With Raiders'

Dr. Robert Heen, president of the Menlo Park Kiwanis Club, this week announced the Club's invitation to join with 92 other clubs of Kiwanis International in Northern California to celebrate "Kiwanis Club Day with the Raiders" on Sunday, Dec. 3 at Candlestick Park. The occasion will be the Oakland Raiders' AFL football game with the Buffalo Bills.

More than 2000 Kiwanians, along with families and friends, are expected to attend. The Club Day is sponsored by the Eastlake Kiwanis Club of Oakland.

At halftime, Dorothy Provine of TV's "Roaring 20's" fame will head an elaborate Hollywood star performance in honor of the U.S. Marines' annual "Toys for Tots" campaign, featuring many other TV stars.

Tickets may be obtained from members of the local Kiwanis Club.

Who'd Have Thunk It in September?:

Bears See 2d, Hope For 1st

No matter how Palo Alto does against South Peninsula Athletic League-leading Sequoia in next Thursday's big Thanksgiving Day set-to, the Menlo-Atherton Bears at the present time have their eye on giving the old traditional some significance in the final SPAL standings.

Not that the Bears will be a third team or anything, but should they get by Cubberley tomorrow at the South Palo Alto gridiron, the spectre of having to share their SPAL driver's seat just may prod the Sequoians to any heights that may be needed to win and grab their third consecutive SPAL title to themselves.

The possibilities are endless. If coach Art Boettcher's Bears win their season finale tomorrow their league record will be 6-1 and they'll clinch second place for sure. Sequoia, now 6-0, could whip Paly and take it with no argument.

But, if it's time for the blue moon and the Vikings pull the near-impossible, the Tribe and the Bears split it. Or, if the Bears lose and Vikes win, these two share second place. Confoozin' but amoozin'.

True, the Bears have been the Cinderella team of the current campaign, having been chosen for as low as seventh place in preseason selections, while the Cougars, rated no lower than third, now are tied for sixth.

Aside from Sequoia, Cubberley has gone the longest interval since its last defeat by the Bears, that by a 7-6 count in the final game of the 1958 season.

M-A is 7-2 for the season, their only SPAL loss coming from Sequoia 20-0. They didn't move any mountains in beating Carlmont 7-6 last Saturday, but neither did Cubberley in losing their first-ever game to Palo Alto 20-6. Both obviously have some catching up to do in the offense department.

Boettcher is casting tentatively about for a fullback this week, after learning that big junior Dick Copenhagen is having academic troubles and there's a possibility he may not make it. With senior veteran Dick Cattich (charley-horse) and junior Barry Douglas (healing collarbone) out, "We're looking around," Art said.

His search has led to seniors John Kemp and Dave Olerich, neither of whom have played any fullback before. Kemp was a tackle and Olerich has been used primarily as a defensive linebacker. But there's nobody else and it looks like it'll be a busy day for M-A's shuttling halfbacks Jim Giubbini, Bobo Wallace, Lee Buckingham and Bill Cook.

The wing-T's used by the two combatants are different, with the Cougars of coach Len Doster spreading considerably more to accommodate their more efficient passing of Pete Shambora and Bill Pletsch. Another difference is that the Cougar offense didn't score a touchdown in the first four games of the season.

Nevertheless, the running of fine fullback Tim Morin and halfback Kirby Ruff is still to be counted upon, although they'll be doing it against a defense that has become quite well known for its killing power.

They've allowed but one TD each to Woodside and Carlmont in their last two games and have gathered in 17 intercepted passes for the season, five of them this last Saturday.

Why Not Teach 'em What's Going On?

We ran across an interesting and, sadly enough, new approach to promoting football enthusiasm last week. It came from Michigan State University, where there's a class being conducted exclusively for girls on the theory and practice of organized football. They're sort of teaching the "inside dope" on strategy and playmaking, complete with diagrams, with a coach instructing and going into the technical side of the game.

It struck us that this sort of thing would be just as useful at the high school level, where girls come into their first contact and, if they're going to, develop their first interest in the gridiron game.

Consider: At every high school game the rooting section is at least half female—sometimes it's up to 75 per cent. How many of them know the difference between a T formation and a crossbuck? Or a halfback and a safety man? Or much about the rules? Very, very few.

What it amounts to is that about half the audience at a football game is in pretty fair ignorance about what is going on down the field. The how and why of any sport is just as important as the what. The why is explained carefully in every theater, movie and television plot. It is the great shortcoming of sports promotion in general and amateur sports in particular that this item is overlooked.

Football is especially important here, though, since it's by far the most complicated game and draws the largest crowds. It's the big social thing to do to go to the football game and the cheerleaders are doing a good job of whipping up the enthusiasm, but we can't help thinking that a little education on the subject would go a long ways toward increasing the interest, with all its attendant benefits to the game.

One question arises, of course, and that is, who would run this football class? At MSU an assistant football coach is doing it, but we can't see the local high schools going for an idea like that, the coaches' schedules being what they are already. But we'll bet that the girls' PE teachers, with a little briefing themselves, could run through a slow-motion game movie with little trouble, pointing out what happens here and should have happened here and so on.

With women breaking into the men's world on all fronts, it seems that they should know something about what they find when they get there. Results would be quick in coming, exemplified by an increased interest in school football and all sports.

It could cause trouble too, we suppose. Can't you just hear the sweet young thing greeting her halfback boyfriend after the game with "Smith had the end turned on that last down-and-out pattern. Why didn't you shoot the gap and smear the passer?"

Our Last Crack . . .

The Pigskin Panel is making its final appearance of the season this week, with the sports editor in dire straits in his title defense. It's been a fantastic year to try to make selections, with nobody yet scoring a perfect sweep for any given week.

Full of confidence previously, the sports editor now realizes that his last fling may turn into his dying gasp. If it does, he merrily will throw the crystal teacup against the nearest brick wall. But the wizard of the tealeaves has one more chance. Here goes.

MENLO-ATHERTON 14, CUBBERLEY 6. This will be the usual defensive battle, with neither looking overly impressive. Give the Bears another touchdown if they're feeling good about it.

WOODSIDE 20, RAVENSWOOD 6. The word is out that Ravenswood is going to win, but it didn't reach us. We suspect also that it either didn't reach Woodside or fell on deaf ears. The Cats like to win big ones too.

MENLO SCHOOL 21, SAN RAFAEL MILITARY ACADEMY 20. We've been informed that our head is on the platter for this one, but that Menlo club looks good even from that angle.

DIABLO VALLEY COLLEGE 22, MENLO COLLEGE 15. Defensive lapses are hurting the Oaks, but maybe they'll change back to offensive mistakes. A Menlo win would be a genuine upset after what they've gone through.

WASHINGTON STATE 28, STANFORD 20. We could be giving the Injuns a break on this score, although not likely. They'll keep it respectable, but we just can't see it any other way.

BEARS 24, 49ers 17. What can we say? Anything is possible with these birds.

Ravenswood Grabs Both Cage Crowns

Two lightweight basketball crowns came to Ravenswood High in a sweep of C and D cage honors almost unprecedented in SPAL history over the weekend.

The powerful Trojan Ds swept to their third title in three years by annexing the Shaughnessy playoffs at Menlo-Atherton High in two straight games.

And the surprising Ravenswood C squad climaxed everything by winning three games — two of them in regular tournament play and the third Monday night over regular season round-robin winner Cubberley in a 42-40 thriller.

Coach Tom Crane added that now "we're hoping for two more titles — in varsity and B basketball."

Only Sequoia, in 1957, had previously annexed both C and D titles in one season.

The Trojan Ds started off right last Friday by topping Sequoia 30-26 behind Rocky Boyer's 13-point scoring — his best total of the season — and Ernie Bryant's 10-point effort.

The Trojans led most of the way in this ball game. They returned to action against Menlo-Atherton in the finals on Saturday night and easily whipped the rival Bears 30-20 with Varrie Booker rolling up 10 points and Jerry Tate adding eight markers.

The Trojans held Menlo-Atherton to only five field goals in a fine defensive effort with Booker working hard off the backboards. Only Dave White, who scored nine points, could solve the Ravenswood defense.

The victory was the 37th in a row on the court for the Crane-coached D team, a great lightweight basketball record.

M-A gained the finals by turning back San Carlos Friday night in a 21-20 squeezer. Don Oliver led the Bears scores with eight. They trailed 15-14 at the half but came back with a 6-2 edge in the third quarter and hung on. White got six for the winners.

Perhaps the sweetest victories, however, were the three posted by the underdog Trojan C team. The squad started slowly this year, but picked up steam as the season progressed, began to score points and toughened up defensively. They reached their peak in the final contests.

The standouts for Ravenswood in that final game were Jim Bradley, who poured in 21 points, and Hank Gonzales, who racked up 17 in his final game as a Trojan basketballer.

It all started on Friday when the Trojans upset Carlmont 33-29 with Bradley getting 15 and Gonzales notching nine. Jeff Mulford and Joe Harmon had four points each.

Ravenswood trailed 16-11 at halftime and 21-18 at the three quarter mark, but caught fire in the fourth quarter to score 15 points and win it.

Their next tough one for the tournament title was against San Carlos, upset victor over Cubberley, the round-robin winner. And the Trojans came through again, utilizing a field goal by Mulford and Bradley's final foul shot to knock off the Dons in the final minute.

Bradley had 13, Gonzales scored six and Mulford tanked five in this one. Bradley pulled in 19 rebounds.

Ravenswood, winner of the playoffs, won the chance to play Cubberley in a final game Monday night — and made good in a big way.

The locals were in control from the start against the tense Cubberley squad and held a 22-10 lead at halftime. But the Cougars put on a "panic press" in the second half, forcing Trojan errors.

Cubberley gradually closed the gap but could not catch the Trojans, who thus nailed down the first C division basketball title in the school's history.

Bradley and Gonzales were outstanding on offense with Steve Combs and Gates doing good defensive work.

CHAMPS IN ACTION . . .
. . . Saturday night were the Ravenswood Trojan Ds, who clubbed the Menlo-Atherton lightweights for the SPAL D playoff title 30-29. Ravenswood's Rocky Boyer (white shirt) battled with M-A's Terry Spoon for this rebound while Bears Don Oliver (4) and Dave White (6) and the Trojans' Varrie Booker (54) stood by. The Ravenswood Cs also won a crown, beating Cubberley Monday night.

SRMA 'Best in Years':

Acorn Win Streak in Jeopardy

Will the Menlo School Acorns keep their 17-game Bay Counties Athletic League football win streak alive tomorrow against San Rafael Military Academy in their season ender? The consensus seems to be no. If not, the Cadets will end one of the longest jinxes in Bay Area prep football history, if not the longest. They haven't beaten the Acorns in 15 years.

This renewal of the old rivalry will be at the Menlo field on Alejandra Avenue tomorrow, starting at 2:30 p.m.

SRMA currently is undefeated and reportedly has the best team to come out of the Academy in years. Included in this year's six victories is one over Cloverdale High, the same club that handed Menlo its only loss of the season, that in the opener.

Big (205) fullback Joe Heinz, undoubtedly the best player in the league, heads the Cadet efforts in both directions, doubling in the line on defense. Halfback Bill Freeman is the leading BCAL scorer and the Cadets' best pass receiver. The passes come from sharp quarterback Terry Hofmann, operating behind a line that outweighs Menlo six pounds per man.

Ace Menlo wingback Brown Cannon's bad charley-horse has dealt the locals a blow. His running was missed last week and will be tomorrow, where he's doubtful for anything but kicking duty.

But the Acorns, in rolling to five straight BCAL wins this year, have looked better every game. If coach Bill Wyman's crew wins this one they'll have their third consecutive title in their pockets.

They ran over Emery High over at Emeryville last Friday 19-2, making it look like a tune-up for the big one tomorrow.

Ned Spieker, Menlo's lonely end, took an 11-yard pass from quarterback Buck Arbuckle for the first Acorn touchdown, in the second quarter. Halfback Gary Raykovich grabbed off a Gliss Levias pass in the third and raced back 22 yards to score with it. Later the same quarter, Dave Smith fell on a blocked Emery punt in the end zone to complete the scoring. Dave Gregg had blocked it.

Halfback Justy Wilson was the leading Acorn groundgainer, as usual, with 84 yards in ten carries. Arbuckle completed four passes in ten attempts to rack up 86 yards and give Menlo a glaring 186-67 edge in total offense. The Acorns never punted, although they still drew nine penalties, totalling 105 yards.

STILL ANOTHER . . . . . San Carlos drive started to peter out when Don halfback Bob Gilmer (40) was taken down while trying to cut through the line during the second half of Woodside's 13-7 SPAL victory Friday night at Terremere Field. Woodside linebacker Bob Watson (on ground, left), got him, while guard Charlie Kirgis (left) and linebacker Fred Pieper (right) came in to aid. —Recorder photo

Third SPAL Triumph for Woodside:

Wildcat Defense Befuddles Dons

It looked like it would be over early for the Woodside Wildcats Friday, but a couple of sickbed regulars got together and turned it into curtains for the San Carlos Dons by a final 13-7 count at Terremere Field, the Cats' second South Peninsula Athletic League win of the season.

Senior end Gary Thurston, given his OK to play only last Wednesday and at 180 pounds still ten under his normal weight after a session of mononucleosis, has his usual brilliant self and had his accustomed hand in the outcome.

Quarterback Bill Welsh, who missed the Menlo-Atherton game with a bad ankle, also was back and made his presence keenly felt too.

With the Cats trailing late in the first quarter 7-0 they got the ball on their own 23 on a San Carlos punt. The Welsh-to-Thurston passing combination, a fearsome thing, caught the Dons flatfooted on the first play from scrimmage, Thurston taking the ball at the San Carlos 48 high over his head and rambling all alone into the Don end zone. John Scott's placement tied it up.

Scott recovered a fumble at the SC 38 in the third quarter, igniting the second Woodside TD drive, Welsh carrying from the one on a sneak ten plays later.

Thurston's return to good health also included a 24-yard pass from Welsh in an aborted Woodside drive and a blocked punt before his personal crushing of the final Don try. San Carlos had the hide at their own 38 with 1:16 left in the game when Thurston unsprung Dave Salinero from it and recovered for the Cats. The Woodsiders then ran out the clock.

The Dons caused much grief to Woodside in the early moments, halfback Marty Hall going through the left side of the line on three straight crossbucks for 47 yards, the last one for 16 and the touchdown. Jim Basin kicked the PAT. But after that the Wildcat defense became impregnable. The Dons never again crossed the midfield stripe.

M-A Water Poloists Were in Fine Form:

Bruins Get into Bay Area Playoff

Menlo-Atherton High's varsity water polo team, looking its superb best, splashed to its sixth South Peninsula Athletic League title in seven years Saturday at Stanford's Encina Pool, taking the SPAL Shaughnessy Playoffs.

The Bears clobbered Woodside 11-3 in the morning match to earn a shot at the noon finals, which they also made short work of with an 18-7 dunking of San Carlos. The Dons beat Palo Alto 10-6 in the second morning match.

Final plans were made yesterday or today for the Bay Area Tournament, to be played Saturday at Foothill College's new pool among the winners of the SPAL, East and West Santa Clara Valley Athletic Leagues and an at-large choice. Los Altos, the West SCVAL winner and the Bears were in, but the East SCVAL champion wasn't decided until yesterday's playoff between Washington of Centerville and James Lick of San Jose.

Probable gametime Saturday will be 8 and 9 a.m. for the opening round matches, with the consolation match at 2 p.m. and the championship at 3.

Coach Bob Gaughran's Bears refused even to let Woodside into the match through the first quarter of the opener, holding the Wildcats without a shot while rolling to a 5-0 lead. The Cats wound up getting only eight in the entire match. Jim MacKenzie, scoring leader for the Bears in both games, paced the winners with four, while Greg Buckingham got three. Nick Cummings had two for Woodside.

They did it again in the final, racing to a 4-0 first-quarter lead and with MacKenzie pouring them in, were ahead by a dozen goals by the third period.

MacKenzie's total was seven for the final tilt, with Bob Plate, Bob Laird and Jack Beall each bucketing three. Jim Moblad paced the losers with five.

Buckingham and Bill Racine did good jobs defensively in both matches.

PAT Point Does Job for Bears

Those Menlo-Atherton Bears still are hanging in there, still hoping for a share of the South Peninsula Athletic League varsity football title and still ready to get mean about it.

They also have been getting the full benefit of the opposition's lapses, as they did Saturday night at Terremere Field when the Carlmont Scots failed in a run for a conversion point and the Bears went home with a 7-6 SPAL victory that clinched at least a tie for second place. This was the third game in a row that conversion failures have cost the Scots. They tied Woodside 12-12 three weeks ago, lost to Palo Alto 13-12 two weeks back and now it was a 7-6 loss to M-A.

Despite Scot halfback Bill LuFrano's tremendous running performance of 190 yards in 16 carries, tops for an SPALer this year, it was the defenses who earned the most accolades for their night's work. Only LuFrano couldn't be corraled.

The Bears made it early, taking the opening kickoff 64 yards for their touchdown. Big fullback Dick Copenhagen broke through the middle and went the last 44 in one swipe all by himself, scoring with only 2:10 gone.

Bruce Morningstar, the man with the educated toe, salted it away unbeknownst to everybody at the time, with a perfect placement and the seventh point that was to hold up all night.

For all LuFrano's rushing prowess, it took a fumble recovery on the Bear 39 for the Scots finally to move on the scoreboard in the fourth period. Three penalties aided the Scot drive, two of them inside the Bear seven, with LuFrano cutting in from the one over right tackle. Trying the conversion run at the same spot, however, he found the Bears waiting for him and was stopped short.

Five Rick Brown pass interceptions—four by Bill Werner—offset LuFrano's ground game. One Werner interception at the nine stopped a Clan drive in the second quarter, another in the end zone killed 'em in the third and Dave Olerich's steal sealed their doom in the fourth with three minutes left to play.

Boosters Set 'Sports Night' For Dec. 14

Woodside High School's first annual "Fall Sports Night", complete with an impressive list of sports personalities and athletic awards presentations, will be held Thursday, Dec. 14 in the school multi-purpose room, according to plans outlined by the awards committee at the Woodside High Boosters Club meeting last Thursday night at the school.

Bud Foster, well-known Bay Area sportscaster, will act as master of ceremonies. Stanford varsity football coach Jack Curtice will be guest speaker. His subject will be college sports.

Awards will include Boosters Club awards and Menlo Park Recorder Athletic Endeavor Awards, the Recorder awards going to the outstanding athlete in each of the fall sports at Woodside.

Among other business reports was a brief resume of the recent tour taken by seven Woodside students to the University of California's Davis campus, with which they were "thoroughly impressed," according to Mrs. Hans Roth.

It also was announced that the Boosters Club, which started with six parents in June, has swelled its membership to 75 at the present time.

The Club's special projects committee, headed by Dr. Daniel Liebowitz, is meeting tonight at 8 at the Liebowitz home, 335 Laning Drive in Woodside. Any Woodside parents interested in this committee are invited to attend.

CAMERA CLUB MEETING

Palo Alto Camera Club will hold its regular monthly "Welcome Guest" program Tuesday, Nov. 21, in the Palo Alto Art Club auditorium, Channing and Cowper streets, with Charles H. Green to show color slides and narrate a recent trip to Florida. The meeting starts at 8 p.m.

HEADED . . .
. . . out of bounds to stop the clock, Menlo College quarterback Butch McCormack (15) picked up eight yards in Menlo's last offensive drive against Monterey Friday at the Menlo field. McCormack ran when he couldn't find a pass receiver open and was headed out by Monterey's Len Newman (67) and Charlie Vaughn (78). Monterey won with three last-quarter TDs 36-26.

It's All Over Tomorrow:

Oaks Test Diablo Valley in Final

It won't be long now — tomorrow night, to be exact — when a band of tested but battered Menlo College Oaks can hang up the football gear for the last time this season, but only after their Coast Conference finale with dangerous Diablo Valley College.

The game time and site were changed this week to tomorrow night at 8 at the Alhambra High School field in Martinez. Originally it had been scheduled for Saturday night at Pleasant Hill High in Concord.

Coach Bo Molenda's hard-luck Oaks still have a shot at a winning season, although the breaks will have to improve if they're to avoid what happened last Friday in their 36-26 Conference loss to Monterey Peninsula College at the Menlo field. That one evened their season record at 4-4 and busted their CCJC mark down to 2-4, still the best in three seasons.

However, this also has been the best year in some time for coach Sam DeVito's Vikings from the East Bay. They have a 6-2 season record, 4-2 in the Conference and are now a good choice for a second-place tie.

With Foothill's 21-20 upset over Hartnell last week the fight for the crown was thrown into a two-way battle between Monterey and the Panthers, both now 5-1. They meet Saturday to decide who takes the bacon. A Diablo victory over Menlo would give the Vikings a tie with the loser of the big one down south.

Three straight Conference opponents—Hartnell, Foothill and Monterey — have stopped flashy Menlo halfback Jim Bohl and with him the Oaks ground game. Quarterback Butch McCormack finally got unstuck against Monterey, completing 15 of 31 for 211 yards and four touchdowns. But whether the thin but game Menlo line will hold up is another question. Lack of reserves really hurts, as Molenda knows so well.

Diablo will answer with a tight-T behind an unbalanced line and a lonely end, with six returning lettermen among the starters to run it, so there's no lack of experience here. Inside tackle Wally Busch, at 215, anchors the Vike line. Running-wise, it's 210-pound fullback Tom Brown and halfbacks Pete Demos and Bill Davis handling the chores.

BATTLE OF COMEBACKS

The lead changed hands twice in a real ding-dong affair Friday, with Monterey dashing to two early TDs, Menlo coming back with four and the Lobos crashing through for three in the fourth quarter against a crumbling Menlo defense to take it.

Lobo halfback Jim Dotson went 45 yards on the first play from scrimmage for the first. In the second quarter the Lobos went 35 yards after a fumble recovery, fullback Dick Austin bulling over from the five.

Trailing 16-0, McCormack swung into high gear with three scoring passes that gave Menlo a surprising 20-16 halftime lead, all in the last 4:36 of the half.

The first was a 12-yarder to Paul Pfleuger that ended a 47-yard march. After Mike Patitucci intercepted a Dick Murry pass at the 39 the Oaks moved in again, McCormack finding Mike Gridley with a seven-yard lookin toss in the end zone. Murry fumbled at the Menlo 48 on the next series, Tim Hogan recovering for the locals. After moving to the MPC 26, McCormack drew a bead again and lofted into the end zone, where Mike Sears caught it with a beautiful diving grab. McCormack's pass to Gridley got the conversion points, the only two of the day for the Oaks.

Menlo lead 26-16 after three periods as a result of another Lobo bobble, this one at the Lobo 16. They worked it to the five, from where Butch hit Harry Kellogg with a lookin toss for the score.

Behind halfback Jerry Colletto the Lobos came jarring back, Colletto scoring from six out after a 42-yard campaign. It wasn't long after that when Colletto broke loose for 31 yards and another six-pointer to put Monterey ahead to stay. Austin went 11 yards for the final Lobo TD after a Menlo fumble at their own 35 killed their last chance with time running out.

Frosh-Soph Grid Roundup:

M-A, Ravenswood Vie for 4th Spot Today; Scots at Woodside

Frosh-soph football comes to a gear-grinding season close today, with Menlo-Atherton and Ravenswood fighting it out for fourth place at the M-A field in the only contested spot left. Woodside has only faint hopes, but will go after its second win of the season at home, playing host to Carlmont, another fourth-place holder. Unbeaten Cubberley is at home against Sequoia and Palo Alto goes to winless San Carlos in the other games, all starting at 3 p.m.

Palo Alto stayed a game behind Cubberley last Thursday, belting M-A 33-7 at the local gridiron. The Woodsiders handed San Carlos their 13th straight lightweight loss, dating from last year and broke a five-game string themselves with a convincing 24-7 decision at San Carlos and Ravenswood turned in one of the big upsets of the season, blanking Sequoia 6-0 at Trojanville.

The Vikelets scored in every quarter against the baffled Bears, all on long-gainers. Bill Thompson scored three TDs, on 44 and 35 yard runs and on a 44-yard pass from Bill Lerch. Tim Barnes ran the other two in in the first period on 35 and 56-yard runs.

M-A didn't strike until the last play of the game, when Larry Armstrong lofted a 44-yard aerial that big Clayton Mallett grabbed high over his head while falling into the end zone. Bob Burrill ran in the conversion.

Quarterback Steve Ford bombed San Carlos with three TD passes, hitting Dick Dwiggins for three and 35-yard tosses into scoring territory and Dick Kemmerle with a 20-yarder. Tom Jenks scored the other one on a 20-yard run. Bill Laich went 65 yards with a punt return for the only Don tally.

Ravenswood turned in its best effort of the season, with the defensive line in the starring role. Obie Cole scored on a one-yard plunge just bfore the half for the decider, but the Trojan defenders held Sequoia in the third quarter when they had a first down on the Ravenswood five.

Program Comes Out

The 1961-62 fall and winter program of the San Mateo County Parks and Recreation Department has been printed and is now available.

The program includes: a location map of the County Parks; Coyote Point, Flood, Huddart, Junipero Serra, Memorial and Sam McDonald; and the Historical Sites; Sanchez Adobe and Woodside Store.

Procedures and requirements for youth, industrial, fraternal and church groups making reservations are listed.

The program may be obtained by writing to Ralph Shaw, director of parks and recreation, courthouse, Redwood City, or by calling DA 2-2188.

For your family, Betty Crocker® suggests a creamy smooth wheat cereal with a wonderful flavor—Wheat Hearts

Breakfast is the most important meal of the day, because it's the first. So it should be hearty and nourishing. That's one reason why Wheat Hearts is so popular here in the West. It gives you a hot, hearty breakfast with a good share of the protein and Vitamin B1 you need every day.

And folks like Wheat Hearts for its distinctive flavor, too. It's a toasted, nut-like flavor that no other cereal can match.

Try it, with milk or cream and maybe a little honey. And remember, as Betty Crocker says:

"You and your family need a good, healthy breakfast to start you on your way... And the healthier your breakfast, the happier your day."

ALTHOUGH . . .
. . . it was too long, Menlo Park end Randy Demeter made a nice try for this wayward Bill McMonigle pass during Menlo's 20-19 Sequoia Lions Football League loss to Redwood City Sunday at Woodside. Coming up to cover was Redwood City's Ray Walker (28).

Comedia Puts on 'Between 2 Thieves'

Second offering in Comedia Repertory Company's 1961-62 season will be "Between Two Thieves," Warner LeRoy's adaption of Diego Fabbri's "Processo A Gesu," which proved to be a dramatic hit during the New York 1960 season. It is scheduled to open at the Comedia Theater in Menlo Park early in December.

The play deals with one of the most controversial and dangerous subjects to put on the stage: anti-semitism, Christianity and modern guilt. With subject matter which sounds like a lecture in a graduate philosophy course, Fabbri created one of the most popular plays in Europe in recent years. It has had more than 300 performances in each of ten countries since it first was presented in Italy in 1955 .

Diego Fabbri is one of the leading Italian playwrights; his other plays include "The Inquisition," which won the Grand Prix of 1950; "The Seducer," "The Flowers of Pain," "Orbits" and "Delirio." Warner LeRoy, who adapted the play under the title "Between Two Thieves," was a student at Stanford University a few years ago. He is the son of Hollywood producer-director Mervyn LeRoy.

At the opening of the production in New York, many persons were shocked at the novel treatment of the material but realized that this playwright was not just another iconoclastic no-sayer. The play ran for over two years.

East Palo Alto Sunday:

MP Lions Get into Closest Fight Yet in Loss to Redwood City

There are still two clubs in the Sequoia Lions Football League who have yet to win in the four-team circuit. They meet Sunday noon at Woodside High field with the chance that one of them will come out a winner. This may not sound quite sensible but Menlo Park and East Palo Alto, the two in question, each have no wins, four losses and a tie in SFL play — the tie a 6-6 deadlock with each other in early season.

The Menlo Parkers are coming fresh off a 20-19 loss to league-leading and unbeaten Redwood City Sunday at Woodside, but coach Wayne Bell said this week that all the preparatory work is going to be on line play and line charge, commodities that were sadly lacking despite the size advantage the Redwood City 11 enjoyed. Redwood City takes on second place San Carlos Sunday at 1:30 following the Menlo-EPA affair.

Bell's Blueshirts put up quite a struggle most of the way Sunday, although the battered linemen were pounded and scattered repeatedly to bunt many an otherwise effective-looking offensive maneuver.

Menlo halfback Gary Strawther scored all three local TDs, as is becoming his custom. He took a 26-yard pass over his head falling into the end zone from Bill McMonigle in the second quarter for his first. In the third period he topped off a 60-yard Menlo drive with a two-yard plunge for six points.

In the fourth quarter he broke loose for a 21-yard scoring gallop, after which Joe DeScala ran in the other successful Menlo PAT.

Dave Gow and Ron McKnight each netted a Redwood TD in the first quarter and each ran in a conversion that put Menlo deep in the red before they got anything going. A 65-yard punt return in the third, in which receiver Bob Varrelman lateraled to Ray Walker who broke into the clear, got the winners the other six-pointer.

The Menlos picked up 123 yards rushing for the day. McMonigle completed five of 12 pass attempts for 68 yards but had three intercepted. Bell had high praise for the defensive work of Barry Lenahan and Hal Williams.

Alpine Netters Close Good NCTA Season

Alpine Hills Tennis and Swimming Club's men's "C" division tennis team shut out Peninsula Tennis Club's men's team from Burlingame 9-0 Sunday at the Alpine courts, winding up NCTA interclub competition for the season.

Alpine is an almost sure cinch for second place in the league. This was the Club's second year of NCTA participation and its first winning season.

Singles—Jack Tunnell (A) def. Norm Luna 6-0, 6-3; John Truesdale (A) def. Ralph Biheling 6-1, 6-1; Gerry Schloss (A) def. Glen Stirm 6-1, 6-2; Bob Brown (A) def. Jim Clark 6-3, 6-1; Don Oliver (A) def. Bob Cookson 6-1, 4-8, 7-5; Sam Backus (A) def. Jack Caldwell 6-3, 6-1.
Doubles — Tunnell-Bjorkquist (A) def. Luna-Stirm 6-1, 6-2; Truesdale-Brown (A) def. Clark-Biheling 6-0, 6-0; Oliver-Livesay (A) def. Caldwell-Cookson 7-5, 6-2.

For Dried Arrangements -- Look in Your Back Yard

The use of dried plant material for fall and winter bouquets is an American tradition. And it has carried over into California despite the fact we can cut fresh color through 12 months of the year. We make our annual late fall treks into the country in search of dried pods and grasses for the Thanksgiving table.

All too often, though, Californians overlook possibilities in our own back yards. So many flowers can be cut and dried for use in bouquets either in conjunction with the natives we gather or by themselves.

How many of you might think of drying zinnias and larkspurs or marigolds. Probably not many at all. Yet all of these and many more can be cut from every garden, dried by hanging upside down and used in table centerpieces.

The most useful of all flowers for drying most likely is the fernleaf yarrow. Its flat yellow heads fade to the burnished color of old gold and last forever and a day. You can plant it now for cutting next summer. There are other yarrows, too.

Hydrangeas are number one candidates for drying. The massive heads of either pink, blue or green hydrangea flowers make extra special arrangements when dried. These too can be planted now for cutting next summer.

English lavender is not the showiest of flowers but its use in dried arrangements imparts the most heavenly of fragrances. The common strawflowers, or everlastings if you prefer, are also wonderful when dried.

The commonest way of drying cut flowers for decoration — and certainly the method recommended for beginners — is simply to cut the flowers at the height of their bloom and hang them upside down in a well ventilated room. A garage, attic or basement will do, so long as it is dry.

As suggested above, there are literally countless flowers to be grown for such use. It can become a hobby for the gardener and a boon to the Thanksgiving table or the mid-winter mantlepiece.

Balasubramanian To Lecture on Hinduism, India

Menlo Park Recreation Department is sponsoring a series of lectures by Dr. R. Balasubramanian, from Madras, India, on Hindu philosophy and life in India. Lectures will be held in Burgess Theater on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. Admission is free.

This lecture series is given in conjunction with the Yoga classes now being sponsored by the Rec Dept.

Dr. Balasubramanian (or Dr. Balu for short) graduated from the University of Madras in 1950 majoring in philosophy and was awarded the Miller Medal for proficiency in philosophy in the B.A. Degree examination by the university.

Dr. Balasubramanian currently is working at Stanford University under a Smith-Mundt and Fulbright Scholarship for a special study of ethics.

Further information about the lectures and Yoga classes may be obtained by calling the Rec Dept., DA 5-3211, ext. 18.

'Angel' Ends 4-Month Run Next Friday

Comedia's production of "Look Homeward, Angel," the Pulitzer Prize winning play by Ketti Frings, adapted from the novel by Thomas Wolfe, is scheduled to close next Friday, Nov. 24 after a four-month run.

The play enjoyed a long original run in New York with a cast that included Anthony Perkins and Jo Van Fleet. The Comedia production was directed by Brian Greenberg with settings by King Hall and lighting by Smith. The production plays every Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Comedia Theater, 1300 El Camino Real in Menlo Park. Further information may be obtained by calling DA 6-6560 from 2-5 or 7-9 p.m. daily.

TEEN CLUB CAR WASH

Gallery House Features Six Artists

Six artists, Doris Aller, Marylee Stanley, Edith Sommer, Louise Robertson Pfeiffer, Helen Beccard Niles and C. R. Steele, currently are being featured at Gallery House in Ladera. This is something special because it is the largest group ever featured in a single show at Gallery House. Included in the group are the first three chairmen of the board of directors and a past and present board member.

An unusual variety of artistic expression may be seen at this show because each artist works in a number of media with various approaches. There will be sculpture in metal, slate, stone and wood — both serious and humorous. The paintings show trends in figurative and abstract expressionism and the pottery is both useful and decorative.

The jewelry, hair ornaments, necklaces, bracelets and earrings are in the contemporary mode and the mosaics, panels and tables are for indoor and outdoor use.

The exhibit at Gallery House in the Ladera Country Shopper on Alpine Road, will run through Dec. 3.

The Gallery is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Sunday 1-5 p.m. and is closed on Mondays.

M-A Players in Good Shape for 'Teahouse of the August Moon'

By LINDA KIERNAN

Tomorrow's the night. It's the big opening of "Teahouse of the August Moon," by John Patrick, being presented by the Menlo-Atherton High School senior class.

"Teahouse of the August Moon" will run tomorrow and Saturday nights, both at 8:15 in J building on campus.

Last month, 130 interested seniors turned out for tryouts. The next day tryouts were opened to the entire student body.

The cast and their parts: Glen Kaye, Sakini; Will Ackles, Sgt. Gregovich; John Achorn, Col. Purdy; John Hemphill, Capt. Fisby; Nancy Heidenreich, Old Woman; Peggy Bioccini, Old Woman's daughter; Alice Nakasora, Sayo Kamita and Chyimi Katsuyoshi, children; June Miller, Ancient Woman; Mike Allio, Mr. Hokaida; Doug Burpee, Mr. Omura; John Bennet, Mr. Sumata; Terry Rose, Mr. Seiko; Teppie Brown, Miss Higa Jiga; Carol Dobbins, Mrs. Keora; Sheila Gill, Mrs. Oshira; Suzanne Iwanaga, Lotus Blossom; Jack Stephens, Capt. McLean; Chris Simpson, Helen Carter, Fray Ferguson, Nancy Heidenreich, the Ladies League; Kathy Howe, Linda Shuck, Cathy Brown and Joanne Masaoka, the villagers.

Faculty directors on the production are James Dunn and Mrs. Patricia Backus. Bob Hirschboeck is student director.

Committee members, numbering into the dozens, also are at work this week. They include:

Programs and posters—Corning McKennie, faculty advisor; Sparky Jacobs, chairman; Kit Haskell and Pam Eldred, set design—Lewis Karcher, faculty advisor; Cheryle Dean, chairman; Marilyn Strauss, Shirley Rose, Leslie Bailey, Emily Snowden, Jean Kennedy, Lynn Johnson and Randy Burke.

Properties — Peter Simmons and Mrs. Judy Davis, faculty advisors; Kathleen Burgess and Anlainette Gary, co-chairmen; Carolyn Drescher, Rosemary Butera and Andrea Kemp. Bishop's Co. To Perform At Ladera

The Bishop's Company of Santa Barbara, a touring theatrical group, will make a stop at Ladera Community Church Monday, Nov. 20, to present two offerings: "Winnie the Pooh" at 3:30 p.m. and Christopher Fry's "The Boy with a Cart" at 8 p.m.

Marked with whimsy but serious in the extreme, "The Boy with a Cart" tells how a boy builds a cart and trundles his aged grandmother through the south of England — but more, that simple hearts and willing hands can achieve their ideals.

Founded in 1952 by Phyllis Benbow Beardsley, the Bishop's Company is now in its eighth year of touring coast to coast and in Canada and has appeared at many churches, colleges and universities throughout the nation. Inter-racial and inter-faith, it is an independent organization named in honor of Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Thomas Shreve at DA 3-5460. Ladera Community Church is located at 3300 Alpine Road, Menlo Park.

Kelly Park Recreation Program Is Varied

Activities aplenty — that's the phrase to describe the recreation program at Joseph B. Kelly Park in Belle Haven.

Sam Dawson and Mrs. Elizabeth Turner, co-leaders for the Menlo Park recreation department at the park, said the regular Friday teen dance will be held tomorrow from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. with dancing to records. Youngsters from 13 to 19 years old are invited.

From 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, general recreation programs are carried out. The Kelly Park Mothers' Club meets from 10 a.m. to noon on Wednesdays and adult recreation activities take place from 1 to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays.

This week's activities include: Tiny tot story time, 3:15 to 3:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday; Small Boys Club meeting, 3:30 to 4 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday; Junior Girls Club meeting, 4 to 4:40 p.m., Wednesday; Indoor Teen Time, 4:30 to 6 p.m., daily; Tennis lessons, 4:45 to 5:30 p.m., Monday, Tuesday and Thursday; club work projects, 4:30 to 5:30, Wednesdays; hunch basketball, 4:15 to 5:30 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

A table-tennis tournament will occupy the indoor teen-time period next Wednesday from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Evening activities at Kelly Park include the Monday night study hall from 7 to 8:30 p.m. for teenagers — and the teen social meeting on the same night from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

The dance for teenagers is held every Friday night beginning at 7.

All activities are supervised and persons who want more information on them can call Dawson or Mrs. Turner at Davenport 2-7874.

New Rec Gym Hours Start

The Ravenswood Recreation and Park District gymnasium is supervised one half hour earlier and closes one half hour earlier than in the summer.

The new evening schedule of supervision on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings for the gym began last night.

During the winter months, the evening schedule for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. No other programs will be affected by this change.

The adult volleyball group will continue to meet on Monday evenings from 7:30 until 9. The Friday evening folk dance club will still meet from 7 to 9 p.m.

Recreation Areas Close on Holiday

Officials of the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District announce that all facilities will be closed Thursday, Nov. 23, in observance of Thanksgiving.

The Recreation Center gymnasium will be supervised Friday and Saturday, Nov. 24 and 25, from 10 to 12 noon and 1 until 5 p.m. Jack Farrell Park will also be supervised Nov. 24 and 25 from 9:30 until 12 noon and 1 until 5 p.m., weather permitting.

GARDENER'S CHECKLIST

1. All spring blooming bulbs, except the earliest cape bulbs such as freesias, still may be planted.

2. Snails and slugs are active during cooler weather. Bait for them frequently.

3. Plant perennials. Nurseries have a good supply of flat-grown perennial seedlings this month.

4. Make a second planting of ranunculus and anemones. Staggered plantings will lengthen the bloom season next spring.

5. Plant camellias for winter color. You can shop for them as they come into bloom, which means any time up to spring. Each week brings new varieties to bloom.

GEM AND MINERAL MEET

Gem and Mineral Society of San Mateo County will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 7 p.m. at Bob's on Broadway in Burlingame.

DESSERTS OF THE WEEK FROM Betty Crocker

Thanksgiving's almost here. Then just one short month to get ready for Christmas. Here in our Betty Crocker Kitchens, we've already started baking our holiday fruitcakes. It's so easy when you can store them away in the freezer. And we think you'll like our easy—and surprising—recipe that uses Cake and Frosting Mix. Do try it.

Cake-of-the-week:

MYSTERY FRUITCAKE

Make Betty Crocker Devils Food Cake Mix as directed. Cool; crumble cooled cake into large bowl. Add 4 cups candied mixed fruit (two 1-lb. jars), ½ cup each whole red and green candied cherries (½ lb.), 1½ cups seedless raisins (½ lb.), 1 cup dates, cut up (6½-oz. pkg.) and 4¼ cups pecan halves (1 lb.). Make 1 pkg. Betty Crocker Fluffy White Frosting Mix according to directions, and add to cake and fruit mixture. Stir with spoon or toss together with hands until mixture is damp and blended together. PACK TIGHTLY into foil-lined 10" tube pan or two foil-lined 8½x4½x2¾" or 9x5x3" loaf pans. Pat down with buttered hands until smooth. Cover cake with foil and chill in refrigerator at least 24 hours. Or wrap and freeze. Makes 6½ lb. fruit cake. Make other fruitcakes with Betty Crocker White, Yellow or Honey Spice Cake Mix.

Party Centerpiece:

TRAIN CAKES

Fun for children and grown-ups, too! Bake any flavor Betty Crocker Layer Cake Mix in an oblong pan, as directed on pkg. Cut pieces of cake 4x1½". Frost sides and tops with Betty Crocker Chocolate Fudge Flavor Frosting Mix; decorate with confectioners' sugar icing to resemble cars in a train. Candy lifesavers can be the wheels. 18 servings.

BETTY CROCKER makes the difference... taste it!

SHOCK . . .
. . . is the only reaction Robert Goettelman can register when Betty Jones turns down in no uncertain terms the check he offers her as a bribe to keep her quiet in the "The Solid Gold Cadillac," which the Menlo Players Guild is opening with tomorrow night at Burgess Theater. The famous play had a long Broadway run.

Conferences, Common Stock and Corruption:

'Solid Gold Cadillac' Opens New Guild Season

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" will roll into Burgess Theater tomorrow night to open a three-weekend run, performance starting at 8:30.

This comedy, which had over a year's very successful run on Broadway with the comedienne Josephine Hull in the title role, was written by Howard Teichman and George S. Kaufman and proved to be one of the biggest laugh-getters of the season.

The action of the play centers around an elderly ex-actress, presently "at liberty" as they say in the theater, who, owning but ten shares of stock in a huge manufacturing empire, completely disrupts the annual stockholders' meeting by asking embarrassing questions of the members of the executive board.

In order to keep her quiet the board decides to take her on as an employee and tuck her away in a dingy out-of-the-way office where they hope she will never be seen or heard from. And they tell her that she is to act as a sort of liaison officer between the company and the minority stockholders.

In this capacity she discovers so many irregularities in the way General Products is being run that she convinces the former president, now holding a government post in Washington, that he should return and try to salvage his corporation. And this he does with Mrs. Partridge's assistance and the support of the many thousands of proxies sent her to act in the minority stockholders' behalf.

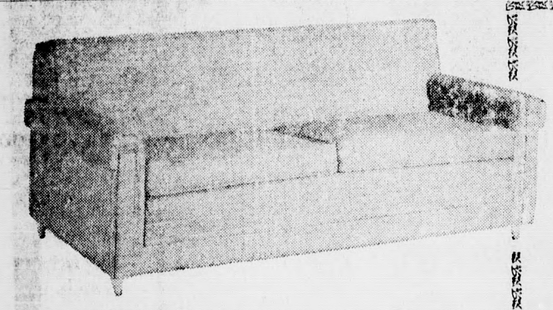

In the leading role will be Betty Jones, who has done work with Hillbarn and the Claypipers. Others taking important parts will be Bob Rose, Joseph Scannell, Robert Sinclair and Robert Goettelman, some of whom have played with Palo Alto Community Theater. Louis Picetti, Jr. will play Big Ed McKeever, former president of the corporation.

Sherrie Dobrott, who has played with Stanford and Comedia will be Amelia Shotgraven, a kind of ugly-duckling who becomes a swan due to Mrs. Partridge's interest: Lesli Smith is a voiceless but very active secretary: Pat Weaver is the narrator: Joan Vandette is Miss L'Arriere, who models everything from bobby pins to oil cans: and Ron Coxon, Roberta Colin and Ken Mullen whose names are familiar to Peninsula audiences, will be radio commentators for AP UP, and INS. Mark Jenkin will be played by George Spelvin.

The entire production is under the direction of Bernard Rosenblatt, new director for the Menlo Players Guild, who has had extensive experience as an actor and director with a number of community theaters, the University of Miami, Dallas Theater Center Parkway Playhouse and elsewhere. Rosenblatt at present is at Stanford doing graduate work.

Tickets may be reserved by calling DA 6-2685; or DA 2-3261 on production nights.

Burgess Theater is located at Mielke Drive and Laurel St in Menlo Park Civic Center.

Medical Auxiliary:

Tour Heralds Yule Season

Doctor's wives who are members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Santa Clara County Medical Society, District II, are hard at work with plans for their Creative Christmas Open House slated for Thursday afternoon, Nov. 30, from 1 to 4:30.

Planning decorations for the six doctor's homes to be opened to the public, making by hand many of the ornaments and centerpieces, collecting Christmas cookie and punch recipes, designing tickets complete with a map of the entire tour, and coordinating hostesses for the event has been the work of many committees under the direction of co-chairmen Mrs. James I. Ball of Menlo Park and Mrs. G. Cameron Gray.

WORKSHOPS

Mrs. Milton Flocks, chairman of decorating for the Palo Alto home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Norman Sears, is presiding over several luncheon-workshop sessions in her Portola Valley home. Committee members from Portola Valley are Mrs. Robert B. Shelby and Mrs. John C. Poore, who are making hundreds of handpainted ornaments which will be offered for sale to tour-goers. The Sears colonial home at 722 Southampton Drive in Palo Alto will depict an old fashioned children's Christmas theme.

The authentic early California home of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Browne at 6 Tevis Place in Palo Alto will portray a Mexican Christmas. Mrs. Paul H. Reinhardt is decorations chairman for this home, assisted by Mrs. Charles J. Respini, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. John Bunker, Mrs. Thomas Nelson and Mrs. Richard S. Wilbur. Refreshments will be served in the dining room of the Browne home. Mrs. Glen Austin, Mrs. Alfred P. Spivack, Menlo Park, and Mrs. Robert W. Meyer will take their turns presiding over the punch bowl.

FORMAL THEME

The traditional home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Sewell Brown, 1444 Edgewood Drive, Palo Alto, will have a more formal decor under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanford S. Kroopf of Atherton. Mrs. Anthony S. Felsovanyi, Mrs. Malcolm H. Hawk, and Mrs. Howard L. Jones of Atherton are her committee members.

The three remaining homes to be toured are in Atherton. For Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Berner's colonial home at 28 Manzanita Road, decorations chairman Mrs. John E. Beck has promised an early American Christmas even to the turkey roasting in the oven.

An old world Yuletide will be displayed at the 76 Catalpa Drive home of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Arnstein under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Richard E. Jones and Mrs. Howard F. Martin.

MODERN DECOR

The contemporary house of Dr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Silver at 286 Oak Grove Ave., lends itself to striking modern decor in blues and greens. Decorations chairman is Mrs. Benson McGann.

Hostesses to serve at each home have been selected by Mrs. William F. Baxter. Head hostesses for each home include Mrs. Daniel W. Meub, Mrs. Ralph J. Campbell, Mrs. Harold J. Beaver, Mrs. Kenneth E. Averill, Mrs. Howard F. Martin and Mrs. Robert L. Hill.

Those attending the tour may begin at any of the six homes where tickets with maps designed by Mrs. Eugene Greider, Los Altos, will be available.

The donation charge of $2.50 is to benefit the auxiliary's Medical Science Scholarship Fund which grants substantial funds to high school students needing assistance to enter or complete a career in medicine, nursing or medical technology.

Mrs. Bernard I. Lewis, WH 8-1260; Mrs. James I. Ball, DA 6-6455, or Mrs. G. Melvin Stevens, DA 4-1544, may be contacted for tickets in advance of the tour.

Benefit Starts Friday

Two full-length mink coats, a collection of Japanese prints, a set of Victorian cranberry crystal for 18, an impressive collection of silver and a wide selection of crystal are but a few of the items that will be sold at Charter Auxiliary's estate sale which starts tomorro wand continues through Saturday at the Alpine Hills Tennis and Swim Club.

Moving the stock into the Portola Valley club today will be the sale committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Kennedy.

For the past year members have been soliciting and collecting valuable antiques — silver, china, crystal, linens, bric-a-brac and furniture. Many of the sale items will be heirlooms or pieces that have stood in recently vacated Peninsula estates for many years.

Mrs. Kennedy announces that the stock of linens is particularly large at this, the third estate sale, which will benefit the Children's Health Council. Large and small tablecloths, napkins, place mats and cocktail napkins are among items which have been donated.

In the silver collection are many large covered serving dishes, coffee and tea urns, cigaret lighters and butter dishes. The stock of hollow ware represents both traditional and modern design in silver smithing.

In the furniture department, there are many notable items, directors chairs made and imported from the Orient, an Italian table with four side chairs and two arm chairs, and a pair of Vitrine tables.

Anna Wu Weakland has donated paintings to the sale headed by Mrs. Henry Judd, Mrs. Willard Sheldon, Mrs. Dalton Bishop, Mrs. Harry Perrin, Mrs. John Blackburn, Mrs. Barbara Block, Mrs. Lyman Fink, Mrs. Robert W. Wallace and Mrs. Willard Johnston.

Among those planning presale luncheons at Country House, new CHC Ladera luncheon room, is Mrs. Herbert Stark.

Dec. 2 at Sharon Estate:

Bazaar Proceeds Will Plant Priory Garden

A landscaping project, namely the gardens of the Woodside Priory in Portola Valley, will get a boost this year from all over Europe, the Canary Islands, Ireland, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Friends of the Priory Guild, who will present a Christmas Bazaar on Dec. 7 at the Sharon Estate in Menlo Park, have fashioned the gifts into beguiling Christmas Boutiques to be sold at the 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. affair.

The Woodside Priory Bazaar to be held for the second time this year is designed to implement the landscaping of the prep school. A preview of the articles to be sold on Dec. 2 reveals a host of beautifully designed ornaments, books and Christmas accessories that could not be purchased at any regular retail outlet.

Starting in January of this year, a group of young matrons have been meeting in the play room of Mrs. Roy Hills on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Mrs. Samuel Wright, Mrs. William Lange, Mrs. Bowman Rodgers, Mrs. David Baldwin, Mrs. Chester Dennis, Mrs. Henry McMicking, Mrs. Warren Spieker,, Mrs. David Moore, Mrs. William Clark and many more have been busy making quaint topiary trees, sculptured from growing ivy, straw fruits and vegetables in gay colors, creating imaginative Christmas trees. Della Robbia wreaths, useful as well as ornamental card holders, are just a few of the items which will be for sale.

BOOK BINDING

Another group have been meeting each Thursday during the year at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Baxter in Westridge. Mrs. Baxter, the daughter of the famed Frank Lloyd Wright, has been the guiding light in teaching the ancient handcraft of book binding. Using antique and modern materials, the apprentice craftsmen have turned out telephone book covers, each equipped with a tiny magnifying glass, desk portfolios, and engagement pads. Some are for milady's boudoir, while still others are at home in any setting.

Clear plastic balls with Christmas scenes and decorations inside are another noteworthy sale item.

Mrs. Edward Eyre, founder of the group, Mrs. John Kiely, president of the Guild, Mrs. Phillip FitzGerald, Mrs. Hazen Butler, Mrs. John McDaniels, Mrs. Calvert Hoyt, Mrs. William Jason, Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. Mervyn Sullivan and Mrs. Ralph Davies are a few of this handcraft group.

On a Saturday afternoon in mid-January, the historic Fire House Museum at 1088 Green St. will be opened to the public for the benefit of the Priory School. The exact date will be announced.

ART APPRECIATION

AAUW section, Art Appreciation, will meet at the home of Mrs. George Liddle, 595 Oakfield Lane, Menlo Park, Nov. 27 at 1 p.m.

Bethel Holds Election

Thursday, Nov. 16, is election and step-up night for Job's Daughters Bethel 242 of Menlo Park.

Each member in the line takes one forward step toward becoming Honored Queen, and a new Marshal is elected.

Senior Princess, Joan Peters will be presiding Honored Queen for the evening. The Bethel's present Honored Queen is Mary Ann Everley. Guardian is Mrs. Dorothy Sauer and the Associate Guardian is Al Kayser.

Several girls will be taking their proficiency test on Thursday, including Diane Briant, Judy Black, Deedee Davis, Kathy Durbin, Lynn Gordon, Barbara Harvie, Jan Huffcut, Linda Lebaker, Donna Parker, Linda Robertson, Judy Sokolski and Janine Sempier.

Last meeting's Visiting Bethels was acclaimed very successful, thanks going to Malinda McLaine as the decorations chairman. Bethel 192 of San Jose did a western drill team number for the occasion. This exhibition inspired the members of local Bethel 242 to think about a drill team of their own.

On Dec. 9, the Bethel plans a snow trip for active members. The girls will go to Sugar Bowl for one day.

PTA Sponsored:

Disaster Chief To Speak Here

Edmund L. Lewis, chief of the education and information division, California Disaster Office, will address 17th District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers at the regular meeting to be held at Laurel School, 95 Edge Road, Menlo Park, today at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. John P. Cuneo, public welfare director, announced that Lewis' topic will be "Civil Defense and You." Program planners feel that his subject matter is of vital interest in view of prevailing events. His remarks will relate the duties of the Civil Defense organization in planning and the responsibility of the individual for self aid when disaster strikes. Mrs. Foreist Cunningham, 17th District president, urges public attendance to gain information on what to do in case of natural, accidental or deliberate disaster.

Lewis, with a Masters degree from the University of Arizona, has a long background of experience in the present day field, serving as editor of military and aviation affairs some 20 years ago. He has held many important posts since then, as safety and civil defense coordinator; consultant, State Shelter Study Committee; executive secretary, Governor's Public Information Advisory Committee; executive secretary, Governor's Education and Training Advisory Committee, and presently is chief, Education and Information Division of the California Disaster Office in Sacramento.

CHORAL MUSIC

AAUW Section, Choral Music, will meet on Nov. 29 at the home of Mrs. John Nielsen, 685 Woodland Ave., Menlo Park at 8 p.m. The meeting is a rehearsal for the group's fall concert.

Open House Slated

Menlo - Atherton Nursery School, a parents' cooperative, is holding open house on Monday, Nov. 20 and Tuesday, Nov. 21, from 10 to 11 a.m., at their quarters in the Nealon Park recreation building at 802 Middle Ave., Menlo Park.

Mothers are invited to bring pre-school children for a visit.

DIVISION

Children are divided by age, with those who will attend kindergarten in the fall at school on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and younger children, at least 2½ and "trained" on Tuesday and Thursday. Visitors might most enjoy observing the class offered their particular aged child.

Parents are afforded the opportunity to participate in their children's pre-school experience and to observe children once out of every four time the child attends school. They also pursue a course in pre-school child development offered by the Adult Education Department of the Menlo-Atherton High School two Monday evenings each month.

DIRECTOR

The nursery school is directed by Mrs. Robert M. Wise who has had much training and experience for her role of teached to both children and parents. She is ably assisted by Mrs. Lilly E. McLoughlin who has been with the school since it opened in 1951.

The school is non-profit, nonracial, non-sectarian and nonpartisan. Tuition to the school is very modest; working and playing with the children is a delight; the educational experience is valuable, and the association with the other mothers is one which gives a long lasting pleasure, according to those who have participated in the program.

Virginia Burden To Speak

Virginia Burden, author of "The Process of Intuition," will speak at Peninsula School in Menlo Park Friday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m.

Author Burden will lead a discussion group on the subject of intuition. This will follow previous discussions dealing with the subject.

Last year, Peninsula School parent, Dr. J. W. Getzels, talked with the staff on creativity in relation to intelligence quotient. At this fall's first parent meeting, Dr. George Spindler discussed the intuitive qualities of a creative person.

Dr. and Mrs. Burden and their small daughter have been living in a small village in Baja, California, where they have been engaged in studies pertaining to community living. Several Palo Alto young people, in the pursuit of their own education, have spent some time with the Burdens.

The public is welcomed to attend the lecture and discussion group.

Kansas Alums Stage Rally

University of Kansas Alumni Association is having a giant rally, buffet and reception at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley, on Saturday, preceding the football game with University of California.

Social hour begins at 10:30 a.m., brunch will be served at 11:30 a.m., game starts at 1:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in attending the buffet, for which there will be a charge of $3.50, may contact Mrs. Jay Besore, at MI 8-4860, or after 6 p.m., DI 4-4275. Those interested in attending the game should contact the University of California Athletic Office, Berkeley.

Mothers Club Meets

Mothers Club of Stanford University will meet Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 2 p.m. in the Women's clubhouse on campus.

Members of the "International Dames" — as the wives of students from abroad call themselves — will present the program, a panel discussion on their impressions, problems and contributions to university life.

Mrs. Harriet S. Crafts, from Holland, is chairman of the group. She will be introduced by Mrs. Raymond Bacchetti, president of the Dames, club for all wives of Stanford students.

Preceding the meeting, a no-host luncheon is held at the Stanford Union at noon. For reservations, call Mrs. Robert Bowen, 84 James Ave., Atherton.

Couples Club Sets Meet

The Couples' Club of Menlo Park Presbyterian Church announces its Bible study groups for the month as follows:

Group 1, Nov. 17, 8 p.m., Dr and Mrs. Hi Mears, 1012 Seymour Lane, Menlo Park.

Group 2, Nov. 17, 8 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. John Marx, 1300 Cotton St., Menlo Park.

Group 3, Nov. 24, 8 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Krause, 169 Angela Drive, Los Altos.

Success Story Told By Pen Symphony

Success was the keynote of the meeting of the Peninsula Symphony Auxiliary last week at the Peninsula Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Frank Ruys, chairman of the Viennese Ball, who had just returned from a vacation in Dallas and Las Vegas, reported that the Ball was so successful that sufficient funds were raised for the production of one complete symphony performance.

Success of the symphony's opening concerts was attested by the large audience which filled the San Mateo High School auditorium both Friday and Saturday nights and the acclaim of the music critics.

Success of the guilds in adding new members, thus expanding the cultural life of the community, as well as the successful sale of memberships to concertgoers was reported.

The successful luncheon of the Los Altos Guild at the Los Altos Country Club, under the direction of Mrs. Gerald Wiwel, prompted other guilds to plan musical luncheons soon.

Mrs. William Cooley, auxiliary president, announced two new appointments: Mrs. Kenneth Miles, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert A. Malloch, publicity director.

Future planning included a Christmas luncheon for auxiliary members and ideas for next year's Viennese Ball and another Heurige, the unusual outdoor wine-tasting party the auxiliary sponsored at Woodside.

Those in attendance from this area included Mrs. Clemens Reinking, Mrs. Robert McSweeney, Mrs. John Richards, Atherton, Mrs. Walter Weber, Mrs. Frauk Ruys, Mrs. Gerald Wiwel, Mrs. William Easton and Mrs. Alec Matthews.

Party Honors Over 80's

"Robby's Birthday Party," a local tradition of almost 10 years standing and a birthday celebration for women over 80, was held at the Dr. Wallace L. Chan estate in Atherton last week.

The Joy Givers, headed by Mrs. J. H. Neilson entertained 30 guests at the festive affair at which an elaborate turkey dinner was served at three tables decorated with birthday cakes, horns of plenty, fruit and table favors.

A cocktail hour preceded the dinner so that guests could renew acquaintances or meet newcomers to the group. Among these newcomers this year were three sisters between the ages of 80 and 87.

Mrs. Charles Christian of Atherton, one of the Joy Givers, arranged for pictures to be taken at the party. These will be attached to Christmas cards as a memento for each senior guest.

Mrs. Milton Adamson of Atherton was hostess this year at the Chan estate. Among those assisting her were Mrs. Irene Whitcomb of Menlo Park.

Guests attending the party were Mrs. Mabel Winterbotham, Mrs. Avis Elkins, Mrs. Mildred White, Miss Bess Banker, Mrs. Adelaide Sedgley, Mrs. Anna Robb, Mrs. Adele Macy, Mrs. Delia Beale, Mrs. Blanche Connolley, Miss Cleone Cummings, Mrs. Lillian Chester, Mrs. Mildred McAfee, Mrs. Ida Dodge, Mrs. Mabel Hemerer, Mrs. Mabel Sarle, Mrs. Clara Sterling, Mrs. Agnes Gunther, Mrs. Florence Baird, Mrs. Maude Adams, Mrs. Laura Heiner, Mrs. Ida May Thompson, Mrs. Henrietta DeWree, Mrs. Cordelia Jones, Mrs. Sally Martin, Mrs. Jule Durell, Mrs. Delia Ewald, Mrs. Leona Creighton, Mrs. Matilda McNulty, Mrs. Zula Bachman and Mrs. Mae Schaeffer.

Jewels Sparkle Showing

Precious jewels will add sparkle to "Jour d'Elegance," the fashion show to be presented on Saturday at the Pioneer Hotel by the Menlo-Atherton chapter of American Association of University Women.

The most lavish of the annual shows yet given by the AAUW, the 12:30 p.m. fashion luncheon will include cassual at-home outfits, ski clothes and elegant holiday wear for Christmas parties.

Door prizes will be awarded by Paul Speegle who will also perform the commentating chores with his usual grace and humor.

Proceeds will benefit the group's educational fund.

Once Upon a Mattress:

Newcomers List Bridge, Theater

Mr. and Mrs. Bridge Section of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Club will meet at two homes on Friday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m.

One group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dudley, 62 Hermosa Place, in Menlo Park, and the other at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Schunemann, 940 Colby Ave., also in Menlo Park. During the last few months, this section has grown in popularity, with three meetings being held on Mr. and Mrs. Bridge night in October.

Theater Section will attend "Once Upon A Mattress," a musical comedy, at the Comedia Theater, at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 18. Following the theater, members will go to the Swiss Village Inn for a fondue and wine tasting party.

Newcomers looking forward to this affair are Mrs. Katherine Baldertson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Champlin, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clough, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Connaway, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland W. Women interested in the Menlo - Atherton Newcomers Club who have lived in the Menlo-Atherton area a year or less may contact Mrs. Iver C. Larson, DA 5-5747 or Mrs. James Lang, EM 8-5360.

New Members Greeted:

Starlighters Stage Cinderella Ball

Starlighters will hold their first formal dinner dance party of the 1961-62 season Saturday, Nov. 18, in the Room of the Dons, Hotel Mark Hopkins.

The theme of the party is The Cinderella Ball. Members will gather at the Menlo Park parking plaza where coach busses will transport them to San Francisco.

The decorations will carry out the Cinderella theme, with table centerpieces of golden pumpkin coaches and white candles set in glittering ivy. Name tags will hold swords for the men and golden crowns for the ladies, while golden slippers mark the place cards.

Music will be provided for dancing by Jimmie Vaughn's orchestra, with several specialty numbers on the dance program.

Chairmen of the party, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Christenson of Atherton, are being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Volland, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Ott and Dr. and Mrs. E. Von Berg.

New members of the group to be introduced at the party are Mr. and Mrs. George H. Tuft and Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Field, both couples of Atherton.

Jr. League Sets Feb. 3 Dinner-Dance

Palo Alto unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., has set Saturday, Feb. 3, 1962, as the date for a dinner-dance at the Palo Alto Hills Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. Harry Whelan, hospitality chairman, is in charge of the arrangements. No-host cocktail parties will precede the dinner-dance.

Ice Hockey Match:

Gamma Phi Beta's Plan Intercity Social

Members of Gamma Phi Beta, Peninsula Alumnae Chapter, will host its third annual intercity social on Saturday.

Party plans include a cocktail party, buffet supper and admission to the San Francisco Seals ice hockey game on their home game opening weekend at the Cow Palace.

Gamma Phi alumnae from northern California, their husbands and friends will make up the party attending the Seals-Edmonton match.

The event marks a first for the intercity social in that a sports event will be included. Starting time for the event is 6 p.m. in the Roundup Room at the Cow Palace. Tickets may be obtained from respective chapter presidents, Mrs. Eleanor Johnson, University Club, Palo Alto, or Mrs. Thomas Donton, 3732 Starr King Circle, Palo Alto.

All Gamma Phis are urged to reserve tickets as early as possible as the amount is limited.

Alumnae contributions also help send girls to other camps, such as those sponsored by Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the YWCA.

For Bridge Evenings:

Midnight Supper Is Dealer's Choice

Holiday entertaining and a great enthusiasm for the game of bridge has made the midnight supper menu printed below a great favorite with Mr. and Mrs. John Lotspiech — and one which their guests remember with pleasure.

Jackie Lotspiech is more than ordinarily busy these days. As chairman of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers Christmas Dance and the first party planned by the Continentals for last Saturday night, entertaining demands a certain sleight of hand and a menu that can be prepared between phone calls.

The sandwich loaf and desserts detailed below can be prepared in advance.

* * *

MUSHROOM SANDWICH LOAF

Chicken Salad Filling (tuna can be substituted):
½ C cooked chicken, cut up
¼ C finely chopped celery
1 T minced onion
2 to 3 T mayonnaise
½ t salt
½ t curry powder
⅛ t pepper
1 4-oz. can sliced mushrooms, drained and chopped. Reserve 6 whole ones for garnish

Deviled Ham Salad Filling:
1 family-size can deviled ham
2 to 3 T mayonnaise
2 T pickle relish
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Creamy Nut Filling:
1 3-oz. package cream cheese
4 to 6 T light cream
1 C finely chopped walnuts or pecans
Finch of salt

Frosting:
3 3-oz. packages of cream cheese, beaten until fluffy with
½ C light cream
1 C chopped nuts (added after beating)

Directions:

Trim crusts from a 1-pound loaf of day-old unsliced bread. Cut into 4 length-wise slices. Spread softened butter and chicken salad on one slice, butter and ham salad on second slice, butter and nut spread on third slice. Arrange slices one on top of the other and cover with fourth slice. Frost with cream cheese mixture; garnishing with nuts and reserved mushrooms. Wrap loaf in a damp cloth and chill for several hours. Yield: 10 to 12 sandwich slices.

* * *

Mrs. Lotspiech advises that the loaf be made early in the day so that flavors have a chance to mingle.

Depending on how much time she has, and this is largely dependent on the schedules of her children, Jeff, 12, Marilyn, 9, and Jan, 4, Mrs. Lotspiech serves either coffee ice cream with Kahlua on top and simple cookies or the following fabulous chocolate meringue pie, a favorite with both men and women.

* * *

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE PIE

Crust:

Beat 2 egg whites until foamy. Add ⅛ t cream of tartar; ⅛ t salt; ½ t vanilla. Beat until stiff. Then, very gradually, add ½ C sugar and ½ C chopped nuts (pecans or walnuts).

Generously butter an 8x10" pie tin and shape above mixture into it. Bake 50 minutes in slow oven (250 degrees). Let cool in oven with door open to prevent sticking.

Filling:

Melt 4 ounces Germain sweet chocolate with 3 T hot water. Cook until thick, then be sure to cool. Add to 1 C of whipping cream and gently pour in meringue shell. Refrigerate. May be made the day before and is really better after 12 hours.

The brunette Mrs. Lotspiech, originally a San Francisco girl, advises that the above fare makes it a simple matter for the hostess to enjoy the bridge play during the evening without hopping up to check kitchen progress. She and her husband both enjoy "an aggressive game" and play a system which combines the Charles Goren system and a "little luck."

The Lotspiech family was delighted with their fairly recent return to northern California from Brentwood. Jackie recalls that she was able to find a house in a day and a half spurred by her delight in the area and the trees in the section of Atherton which they chose.

When her husband's parents joined them in the northerly trek, Mrs. Lotspiech spent a solid two weeks searching for their present home in Menlo Park. The Howard Lotspieches find themselves delighted with her choice.

Sigma Kappa Alums Set Two Meets

Sigma Kappa's Peninsula Alumnae Chapter has scheduled an afternoon group meeting today at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. L. Stolp, 65 Acacia Drive, Atherton.

The meeting will feature a book review program, presented by Miss Regina Minudri of the Menlo Park library. Mrs. Philo Leonard will be co-hostess.

The evening group will meet Monday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Walton Dismukes, 1530 Escobita Ave., Palo Alto. The meeting will be devoted to a Panhellenic report given by Mrs. Dismukes, who is a Sigma Kappa delegate to Palo Alto City Panhellenic. Joe Guttadauro will be the co-hostess.

Nettie Balzer Will Head Local JNDGW

Nettie Balzer of Atherton will head the local unit of the Menlo Junior Native Daughters of the Golden West as president for the next six-month period.

Public installation of officers will take place tomorrow evening at 8:15 p.m. in the Yellow Room at the Civic Center.

Barbara King will be installing officer, assisted by Ellen Otte and Patricia Willig.

A talent program will be presented by members.

Miss Susan Gale, unofficial historian of Menlo Park, will give a short talk on the early history of the community. Miss Gale, who has spent her entire life in Menlo Park, in an authority on her subject.

The public in invited to the evening affair. Refreshments will be served.

A Lost Turkey Stuffing Recipe is Found

Many common bonds are found among members of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers — the peculiar strength of the local group, however, can only in part be attributed to the fact that each is new in the community.

Somehow each new class of Newcomers finds a group with which it feels entirely at home. At first the discussion centers around such things as moving problems, house hunting and getting settled. Gradually specifics develop which draw these newcomers closer among themselves. These same interests quickly draw them into the community as a whole.

A case in point is a turkey stuffing recipe. When Mrs. Hal Peterson joined Newcomers, she mentioned to another new-in-the-community member, Mrs. Charles Philips, that she regretted the loss of her grandmother's Thanksgiving stuffing recipe. A fe wcomparisons revealed that both grandmothers had used the same formula, reprinted below.

Elsa Peterson moved here a little more than a year ago from Denver because her husband, a geologist with United States Geological Survey, had been transferred to the Menlo Park office. Before living in Denver, the Petersons lived in Los Angeles for 20 years where Mrs. Peterson was advertising manager for the Broadway Department Store in Hollywood.

Now retired from the active business world, Mrs. Peterson finds herself extremely busy in several sections of Newcomers — garden club, book review, chit chat, and bridge.

At present, she is deep in plans for the Newcomers' big social party of the year, the Christmas Dance to be held on Dec. 2 at the Pioneer Hotel. As decorations chairman, she is knee deep in a delightful jumble of Christmas greens, ribbons, bows and the favors which will be a gift to each guest.

With all this she plans a Thanksgiving dinner which will gather members of her family together. The Petersons traditionally serve their holiday bird in the late afternoon after relaxing over cocktails. Mrs. Peterson not only has shared her re-found turkey stuffing recipe but has contributed a special cranberry sauce recipe and a recipe for the creamed onions which she and her husband consider a must on "turkey day."

CRANBERRY SAUCE

1 LC cranberries
2 C sugar (white)

Wash and destem cranberries. Put in saucepan. Add sugar and just enough water to cover. Cook slowly until all cranberries are mashed. Bottle. Keep in refrigerator.

This will not jell, but retains a true tart cranberry flavor. Serve in bowl with spoon or ladle.

OLD ENGLISH TURKEY STUFFING

1 lb. sausage
8 C dry bread crumbs
1 can rich consomme or beef broth
2 C finely-chopped celery leaves
1 C finely-chopped onion
2 C blanched almonds, toasted
1 C peeled, thinly-sliced fresh mushrooms
¼ C finely-chopped parsley
¼ C finely-chopped chives
¼ C finely-chopped green pepper
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. black pepper
Few grains cayenne pepper
¼ tsp mace
¼ tsp sage
¼ tsp thyme
¼ tsp nutmeg
¼ tsp marjoram
4 beaten eggs
½ C thin cream

Fry sausage until well done. Add the bread crumbs, stir in and blend well to absorb the grease. Place in large bowl. Rinse pan with the cosomme, pour over stuffing. Add all other ingredients and mix thoroughly. The secret of this dressing is to follow the recipe exactly. The whole makes a delicious pot pourri flavor you will find delicious.

ONION CASSEROLE

2 cans small onions
2 pkgs. frozen peas
2 cups cheese sauce

Butter large casserole. Put layer of onions. (They will look better whole, but taste better cut in two.) Put layer of cooked frozen peas, then layer of cheese sauce. Repeat. Top with cheese sauce and add bits of cheese.

Easy Cheese Sauce: Put 2 cups canned milk in saucepan, cut up one 8-oz. pkg. processed pimiento cheese. Slowly heat, stirring constantly until all cheese is melted. Season with salt and peper to taste. At the last moment, add ¼ C sherry, stirring fast to prevent curdling.

Bake in 325-degree oven for one hour.

"Adelines" Sing For Supper

Robert Collier, program director for Little House senior activity center, arranged that the Peninsula Chapter of Sweet Adelines, under the direction of Norman Cory, present a program of music to Little House members Wednesday evening.

Sweet Adelines is composed of some 20 women from the Peninsula who have presented excellent entertainment to organizations throughout this area. Cory is supervisor of music for Menlo Park schools and has excellent background for directing such a group as the Adelines.

Little House is open for membership to those 50 years old and upwards and is supported by the Peninsula Volunteers.

Alumnae Plan Grand Opening

By PROXY

Selection of new members will be included at the San Mateo County Junior Museum Auxiliary meeting to be held on Nov. 21 at the Atherton home of Mrs. Henry Ritter Jr. New members will start their year's provisional service next month. Mrs. Mark Ryan of Atherton, auxiliary president, will conduct the meeting.

* * * *

Recent returnees from Honolulu are Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Bengtson of Menlo Park . . . another local traveler is Mrs. Ilda Marquis who sailed recently aboard American President Lines' SS President Hoover for the Orient. Her cruise will visit Hawaii, Japan, the Philippines and Hong Kong.

* * * *

Alpha Gamma Delta Peninsula Alumnae Club met last evening at the home of Mrs. Irving Henningsen. Mrs. James Monfor showed slides of her recent trip to Europe.

* * * *

Grand opening of the elegant farmers' market type restaurant in the old winery on the Stanford University campus, situated behind the Stanford Shopping Center, will be sponsored by Radcliffe College Club of the Peninsula.

At the alumnae-sponsored scholarship benefit party, guests will enjoy a fashion show and entertainment for the price of admission and dinner will be available. Mexican food, barbecue and Chinese viands will be featured by the new Peninsula dining spot.

Among Radcliffe alumnae working on the grand opening benefit are Mrs. Winslow Briggs, Mrs. Marvin Chodorow, Mrs. Stanton Zoglin, Mrs. Samuel Untermeyer and Mrs. Elton Suhrke.

Radcliffe this year has the largest class of undergraduates from the Peninsula in the college's history. Among them are Elizabeth Dole, Nancy Chodorow and Sally Niles.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robin White (he is the author of the recently published "Men and Angels") will gather a large group together for cocktails at their Portola Valley Home on Dec. 2.

* * * *

Palo Alto Junior Auxiliary, Stanford Convalescent Home, members had a wonderful time Saturday evening at the annual fall dinner dance and series of cocktail parties given as a social break for the hard-working group. Host and hostesses of the pre-dance parties were Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Taano of Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pooley of Woodside, Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Hollister and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Neil of Menlo Park.

Among new members, with their husbands, attending the first social event since becoming active members were Mr. and Mrs. John Crosby of Woodside.

* * * *

Among new members welcomed recently at a cocktail party held at Foothills Tennis and Swimming Club were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Eddy Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Marx, both couples of Menlo Park. Board members wives, including Mrs. Robert Walton and Mrs. Robert B. Williams, were party hostesses.

* * * *

Globe-trotting are Mr. and Mrs. James Heter of Atherton who recently departed for the Orient aboard the SS President Wilson. Honolulu, Yokohama, Hong Kong, Manila and Kobe were among their ports of call.

* * * *

Pleasant memories are in store for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton of Atherton who traveled to the Orient, returning to San Francisco via Honolulu.

* * * *

Little House Bids Public To Lecture

Today at 2 p.m., Dr. Charles Beardsley will present an illustrated program on Afghanistan entitled "The Bazaar of Kandahar," at Little House.

Dr. Beardsley is a noted author, lecturer and traveler. He is the author of "The Naked Hills," published by the Taplinger Company of New York.

Robert Collier is program chairman for Little House, 800 Middle Ave., Menlo Park. The public is welcome to attend these regular Thursday afternoon programs.

Los Amigos Club Will Dance Nov. 25

Los Amigos, a club for single, widowed and divorced adults 25 and over, will hold its second dance of the month on Saturday, Nov. 25.

Roy Wilson and Alts Johnson, co-chairmen of the dance, announced that Elmer Vincent's Orchestra will provide music to background the "South of the Border" theme chosen for the party.

Proceeds from Los Amigos dances help to support the community projects sponsored by the group. One of these is a party given on the last Wednesday of the month for patients at Agnews State Hospital. Those attending meet at the "Y" to make up carpools at 6:30 p.m. This month the affair is set for Nov. 29 from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. For further information, call Roger Frey, EM 9-1838.

Members and guests of Los Amigos have an "Eat-Together" each Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at a Palo Alto restaurant. No reservations are necessary. For information on this branch of the club's activities can be obtained from Lottie Ullrich, EM 9-1192, or from the club itself, DA 5-4405.

A multi-interest evening is held each Thursday from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. Activities included are social dancing, group singing, cards, games, occasional guest speakers, discussion groups and refreshments.

Discussion topics for the remaining meetings in November are: at tonight's meeting, "You May Feel You Know the Answer, But Do You Understand the Quesion?"; Nov. 23, "Whom Would You Rather Trade Places With . . . and At What Price?"; Thursday, Nov. 30, "And In Conclusion . . . But Is It Truly Final?" Sergeant Hearn will act as moderator at the Thursday meetings.

Cap & Gown Honors SU Dean

Cap and Gown Society members in the Peninsula area met Monday for a fall luncheon honoring the new Stanford University Dean of Women, Dr. Lucile Allen.

The informal affair also served to introduce the society's 1962 engagement calendars and notecards, under the chairmanship of Jean Burnet, who heads the alumnae board of the Stanford women's honorary group.

The calendars and notecards are sold to raise funds for its continuing scholarship program.

Co-chairmen of the event were Mrs. H. L. Severance and Mrs. Kenneth Cuthbertson, both of Atherton, assisted by Mrs. Donald R. Johnson, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. Lyle Cook, Mrs. James Burke, Mrs. Wililam Floyd, Mrs. Robert Burnette, Mrs. Everett Layman, Mrs. F. B. Jacobus and Mrs. Joseph Pickering.

Red Cross Announces Care Class

Advance enrollment is requested for a class in care of the sick and injured scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday mornings, starting Nov. 28, from 9:30-11:30 a.m. at the Sequoia region of the Red Cross, 3540 Middlefield Road, Menlo Park.

Mrs. Richard Lee, R.N., will instruct the class of seven sessions.

Course content consists of caring for patients in the home after hospital dismissal, or during convalescence; following doctors' orders; simple hygiene for both patient and those caring for him. Two sessions are devoted to disaster care, and preparation of family safety in a home shelter.

Advance registration may be completed by calling the Red Cross at EM 6-3851.

ACTRESS SPEAKS

Elsa Lanchester will speak about the theater at the November meeting of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., which will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 a.m. Location of the meeting will be the main floor auditorium of the Women's City Club, 465 Post St.

Stork Report

TWIN BOYS are the latest additions to the household of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. (Bill) Knutzen, 1810 Bay Laurel Drive, Menlo Park. The boys made their arrival at the Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital on Nov. 12 weighing in respectively at 6 pounds, 13 ounces and 6 pounds, 3 ounces. Their parents have not as yet named the two little boys who, when they are welcomed home, will join their sisters, Kari and Lori. The children's mother is the former Ruth Keplinger, who was Society Editor for the Menlo Park Recorder prior to her marriage. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Knutzen of Atherton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keplinger of Chico are the maternal grandparents.

• • •

IT'S A GIRL, their second, for Mr. and Mrs. Theodore John Portello Jr., who make their home at 2324 Cooley Ave. Yvette Marie was born on Nov. 8 at Sequoia Hospital. At birth, she weighed 6 pounds, 2 ounces. She has a sister, Michelle Therese, who will be 4 years old on Saturday. The little girls' grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Portello Sr. of San Francisco and Mrs. Juanita Brusuelas of San Francisco.

• • •

IT'S A BOY for the Mr. and Mrs. Paul Melvin, 350 Linfield Dr., Menlo Park. Their second child, and first son, has been named Robert Paul. The baby was born at the Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital on Oct. 28 weighing in at 8 pounds, 11 ounces. The Melvin's daughter, Kathleen Louise, is just past a year old. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Levitas, Westridge, and Mrs. Paul Melvin Sr. of Menlo Park.

• • •

A SECOND SON has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Naulty of 123 Alta Vista Road, Woodside. Born at the Sequoia Hospital on Oct. 27, James Dennis came into the world weighing 6 pounds, 10½ ounces. The Naultys' first son is named John Edward and is 24 months old. The boy's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cornell of San Jose.

Priory School Parents Club Holds Meet

Parents' Club of the Woodside Priory School held its second meeting of the year on Sunday at the school library.

The meeting was held to make the faculty available to discuss with parents the progress of the students during the first grading period.

Father Kennedy, pastor of St. Denis parish in Menlo Park, will speak to the parents on the "Principles of Christian Education. Father Kennedy is the former principal of Serra High School in Belmont.

The library committee of the Priory is planning a rummage sale in the early spring. Proceeds from the sale will go for the furnishing of new books for the school library. Mrs. Helen Lundt of Los Altos is the chairman of the rummage sale.

Forum Plans Lecture on Teen-Agers

Parents' Forum of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church invites all members and friends of the church to attend the final lecture given by Dr. Evelyn M. Berger, psychologist, on Nov. 21 at 7:45 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Dr. Berger will speak on "Declaration of Independence" (teenage development and their special problems in our rapidly changing world).

Most of the evening will be devoted to a question and answer peroiod in line with Dr. Berger's belief that she can in this way be of realistic help to parents in understanding teenagers.

Forum members urge that those interested circle the date on engagement calendars. Refreshments will be served.

BETH JACOB DANCE

Temple Beth Jacob Sisterhood and Brotherhood are completing plans for the annual "Streets of Tel Aviv" dinner-dance scheduled for Saturday evening, Dec. 9, in the auditorium of the Temple. Reservations are being taken. Dave Lobree is the president of the Brotherhood and Mrs. Arthur Hoffman is the president of the Temple Sisterhood.

Auxiliary Slates Bazaar

Handmade toys and Christmas decorations, many of which are of original design, will be featured at the annual Sequoia Hospital Auxiliary Bazaar, to be held Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the doctor's conference room of Sequoia Hospital.

Tea will be served from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Gordon Heath is general chairman with Mrs. Helen Ryan as assistant chairman.

Executive board members will serve as hostesses. Mrs. Ben Cassinerio, former auxiliary president, will arrange the tea table.

Mrs. Sam Krieger is handling posters with Mrs. Albert Oneto and Mrs. Alyn Beals acting as cashiers. Gifts and toys from the auxiliary gift shop will be handled by Mrs. T. N. Thompson with Mrs. Joseph Harper, Mrs. Bill Baum and Mrs. George Starrs assisting.

Mrs. C. T. McKenna and Mrs. Robert O'Keefe, jewelry; Mrs. Francis Howard, workshop; Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Roy McCune and Mrs. Lincoln Clarke, special gifts; Mrs. Daniel Smith, publicity; Mrs. Harold Ohlendorf and Mrs. Clyde Ault, decorations; Mrs. Robert Egli, white elephants; Mrs. Robert Thill, door prizes; Mrs. Jack Beeger and Mrs. Harold Coehlo, tea cookies; Mrs. Fred Stengal, tables; Mrs. Louis Rockholt and Mrs. Milton Lauerwasser, Christmas cards, Junior Auxiliary, special booth.

Interesting stuffed toys and Christmas items from the auxiliary workshop, plus jewelry novelties, white elephants and Christmas cards are just a few of the many items to be sold at the bazaar.

Proceeds will be used for the completion of the Sequoia Hospital coffee shop, according to Mrs. Rollo LaBerge, auxiliary president.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

Dr. Cary N. Weisiger III, new minister at Menlo Park Presbyterian Church, will talk to the church's United Presbyterian Women at their luncheon meeting at 12 noon today.

His topic will be "Thanksgiving is Thanksgiving." The UPW Board will hold its monthly meeting at 10 a.m. prior to the luncheon.

By MAL BYBEE

Student government, as it now exists at Menlo-Atherton High School, will be put to a test on Nov. 29 when the student body votes as to whether or not it will adopt a new constitution.

At present, student government is set up on the commissioner system with 20 representatives from each class sitting in on meetings.

The Associated Students of Menlo-Atherton proposal would cut down on second period student council representatives and eliminate the commissioners entirely. Under the new constitution, if it were adopted, a student body president would be elected and would, according to the boosters of the alternate system, become the head of a "tightly knit, efficient executive board."

The constitutional proposal has been put together chiefly by such student leaders as Bob Cahn, commissioner of student welfare, and John Black, commissioner of administration, backed by the other commissioners now in office.

Last summer, a group of students, with the blessing of present board of commissioners, met to form the A.S.M.A. constitution.

The crux of the matter seems to be whether M-A students prefer student government by the few or by the many. There are of course advantages in both systems. A large governing body can be cumbersome, but certainly cannot fall into the hands of one "power group."

On the other hand, with heavy representation from each class, it is possible if meetings are not handled with strict protocol for decisions to come slowly due to the number of people who must be consulted.

LIGHTER SIDE

A rundown of recent parties shows that M-A's student body has had no lack of outside activities.

Last weekend, there was a party after the M-A Carlmont game at the home of Linda Rector. Two Tri-Y divisions gave slumber parties and Cathy Barry's home was the scene of an Entre Nouse initiation party.

COMING UP

This weekend there will be a Tarquins party at Bob Laird's. Big event on the agenda is the senior play, "Tea House of the August Moon," to be presented in J building. Refreshments will be served to the public and student body members, all of whom are urged to attend.

Benefit Sale Will Aid Children

A rummage sale to benefit the Peninsula Children's Center for emotionally disturbed children will be held Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the East Palo Alto Woman's Club, Oakwood Drive and Bay Road in East Palo Alto.

The event is the second of its kind to be staged since the non-profit center was organized in August of 1960. The center is located at 2985 Alpine Road, Menlo Park.

In charge of the upcoming rummage sale are Mrs. M. C. Balch, chairman, of 24070 Vilia Drive, Los Altos; Mrs. Robert Hofstadter, 639 Mirada Ave., Stanford; Mrs. Robert Larrabee, 189 Galli Drive, Los Altos; Mrs. David S. Wilder, 1223 Whitaker Way, Menlo Park, and Mrs. Jack R. Waln, 165 Pineview Lane, Menlo Park.

Liaison Job Proves Satisfying:

Little House Chairman Notes Innovations

Chairman of Little House senior center this year is Mrs George R. Keller, a Peninsula Volunteer who has devoted an uncounted number of hours to the development of the facility over the last 12 years.

Describing her fellow Peninsula Volunteers as "dedicated," Virginia Keller is herself an unparalleled example of the kind of quiet, unassuming dedication that has brought the PV's study of aid to senior members of the community from an idea to its present level of effective service.

Little House now lists 1500 registered members. Estimates show that between 650 and 700 individuals make active use of the facilities available during each and every week.

As Little House chairman, a job to which Mrs. Keller devotes four working days weekly, she is responsible to the PV board of directors in matters of policy. She works with the professional staff at Little House and effects liaison between the staff, the PV's and Little House council.

The PV's leadership in the establishment of Little House shows itself in many ways. Of course, the outstanding achievement is the physical set-up which has become a sort of prototype for other hoped for centers all over the United States.

Mrs. Keller and the PV membership in general, are conscious of the fact that even though what they have is probably better than anything else of its kind, there is always need for progress and change.

Among new innovations at the senior activity center now taking effect is the lip-reading class, started in October. Stanford University backers of the course report themselves completely satisfied with the response and progress made by Little House members.

The men at Little House, not so unusually, have uncomplainingly but rather consistently been moved from place to place for a room in which they could smoke and play cards. After a day in which classes and other activities had moved them several times, Ralph Fillius, a long time member, asked Mrs. Keller why it wouldn't be possible to glass in a porch so that the men would once more have an official spot to gather for their own activities.

Last week Menlo Park's City Planning Commission okayed plans for the new "male retreat."

FIRST-YEAR ACTIVES

Another new policy, and one which is enthusiastically endorsed by Mrs. Keller, is that PV first year actives will now spend a regularly scheduled one day a month at Little House as well as a day a month at Turnabout, the used-clothing shop that contributes a considerable share of "bread and butter" to the organization. She feels, as does the PV board, that new members will get and give great benefit from regular contact at the center and will better know in which capacity they wish to serve as they become oriented to the day-in and day-out requirements of a center which operates under an annual budget of $45,000, one-third of which is raised by Little House members.

Virginia Keller knows well the value of serving in various capacities. She is a past president of the PV's and was once chairman of the group's "Big Party" which last year raised approximately $20,000 toward the PV's community projects. The party has reached such a level as a Peninsula tradition and has become such a success that a good six months of preliminary work is necessary in addition to the intensive few weeks of last-minute preparation for the show, talent for which is provided in full measure by PV's and their husbands.

MRS. GEORGE R. KELLER . . . conducts interviews with new members as well as acting as liaison between the executive staff of Little House, its council and the Peninsula Volunteers Board of Directors. In a short 1[illegible] years the PV's have accomplished the herculean task of building Little House from a dream to a thriving reality.

Garden Study Club Sets Lavish Yule House Tour

Hundreds of local women will desert more familiar territory on Dec. 8 and Dec. 9 for the eighth biennial tour of distinctive Hillsborough homes staged by the Garden Study Club of the Peninsula.

Christmas decorating will be tied with the history and traditions of California for the house tour which features homes decked by the Yuletide season both indoors and out.

Homes are selected for contrasts in architectural appeal, charm and taste of furnishings, historical interest and gracious livability. They will be open to the public from 1 to 5 p.m on Friday and Saturday. Each day will close with the serving of a traditional tea.

GOLD COAST

First on the scheduled stops and unique in its historical, social and romantic appeal, is a "home on wheels" — elegant old period piece from around the turn of the century — and owned for some years by co-authors Lucius Beebe and Charles Clegg. They wrote a libraryful of books on Western Americana and old trains, as they rode across the country and round about the West.

Familiarly known as the Gold Coast, the car was patterned after the Stanford, celebrated private car owned by Leland Stanford, early governor of California and once president of Central Pacific Co. It was purchased by the collaborators in 1946, when moving from New York to the West, as a place to live and write as they rode ,on a book assignment that was published as "U.S. West, the Saga of Wells Fargo." It was bought from the president of the Georgia Northern Railroad, which line built the car. Under the new ownership, the historic Virginia & Truckee in Nevada became the home of this famous carrier.

For the Christmas house tour, Garden Study Club is bringing the car to the grounds of Schick Products, Inc., at Quarry Road and Old Country Road, Belmont, where it will be displayed on the company's spur track.

The car boasts a 24-foot drawing room, complete with fireplace, burgundy velvet carpets, crystal chandeliers, mahogany paneling, bevel-edge mirrors and stained glass windows. The car has two sleeping rooms with private bath facilities, a dining room for six and a galley. Many notables have been entertained aboard the car and it finished its active life in a blaze of social glory, some of which will be revived when it takes on Christmas attire in the able hands of study club decorators Mrs. Henry L. Boos, Mrs. Henry Knutzen, Mrs. D. Stephen Coney and Mrs. Herbert Schick.

HOUSE LOCATIONS

Site of the Caspar Weinberger home, 2260 Forest View Drive, Hillsborough, is part of the old San Mateo Rancho — original land grant from the King of Spain. Land on which the house stands was purchased from the Spanish owners by the father of George Coleman, who built the house in 1904 as a wedding gift for his son. It originally had a high tower, a ballroom and six additional bedrooms, which later made it ideal as a convalescent home for the Navy.

Just two doors away, at 2250 Forest View Drive, is the contrasting modern home of Mr and Mrs. R. E. Schlendorf, which also stands on part of the historic Rancho. This sector became the Samuel Knight estate. The front gates of the present home still bear Knight's initials.

EMPIRE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Harrison, 1254 San Raymundo Road, Hillsborough, is a Monterey Colonial, set in extensive gardens. Empire decor of the house is evident as one enters the formal entrance hall with circular stairway and approaches the sunken living room done in pumpkin, gold and white.

Christmas tea will be served in one of the famous landmarks of the Hillsborough hills. Chateau Remillard is the home of Countess Lillian Remillard Dandini, whose interest in the arts grew out of her early musical training in the studios of Walter Damrosch in New York. Her great chateau has therefore frequently been the scene of musical occasions, but is, for the first time during her residence there, open to a Christmas tour.

BOUTIQUE

In the ballroom, where a boutique will be set up for the selling of handmade Christmas decorations, visitors will note oil paintings that came out of the old Mark Hopkins mansion in Sacramento (still the Governor's mansion). These were a gift to the Countess from Mr. Gallatin, junior partner of Huntington Hopkins, early California railroad tycoons.

Donations for tickets will benefit the Club's continuing work in reforestation of areas devastated by forest fires, and many projects of civic beautification. A few beneficiaries are the Fragrance Garden for the Blind, started by the Study Club, in Golden Gate Park, also the Strybing Arboretum and the Hall of Flowers.

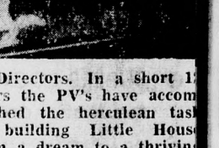

NEW MEMBERS

Among new members welcomed during November to the Menlo-Atherton Chapter of American Association of Univeristy Women are Mrs. Howard Davis Kraft, Mrs. Donald Miller, Mrs. Ernest Norback and Mrs. Clare L. Thomas.

EDUCATION

AAUW Section, Joint Education, will meet on Nov. 28 at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. George Kowalski, 184 Catalpa Drive, Atherton, acting as hostess.

If You Can Aim This Camera You've Got it Made!

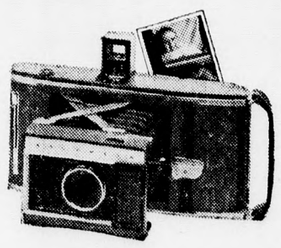

This is the new Polaroid J66 — the simplest Land Camera ever made — and it actually costs less than the first Land Camera model introduced more than 12 years ago!

It takes the same large pictures — but with what a difference. It's fully automatic. There are no settings you have to make. An electric eye chooses the exposure. You don't even have to focus. You don't need an expensive light meter. The flash gun is built in too. And your picture is ready in just 10 seconds.

There are 12 years of improvements, refinements and brand new ideas in this camera. And yet it actually costs less than the first Land Camera on the market.

If you've always wanted a Polaroid Land Camera — and who hasn't? — this is your chance. Come in for a free 10-second demonstration today.
